THE GONG 1986
VOLUME 28

Escondido High School
Escondido California

A

Looking back on this high school year, we will remember the times that we were the "One In Every Crowd." Lunchtime, being the first year with closed campus in a decade, has turned out to be an enjoyable experience in getting closer to one's teachers and most importantly friends. Adapting to the overcrowded conditions on campus this year, students have settled down to a peaceful lunchtime. Many may not agree because music has been played three days a week. However many Cougars enjoy the music supplied by A.S.B. Another new addition has been the selling of food from an outside franchisee. Also branching out with a wider variety of supplies, the Student Store has done extremely well. All in all, lunchtime conditions have improved immensely and hopefully will continue to in the future.

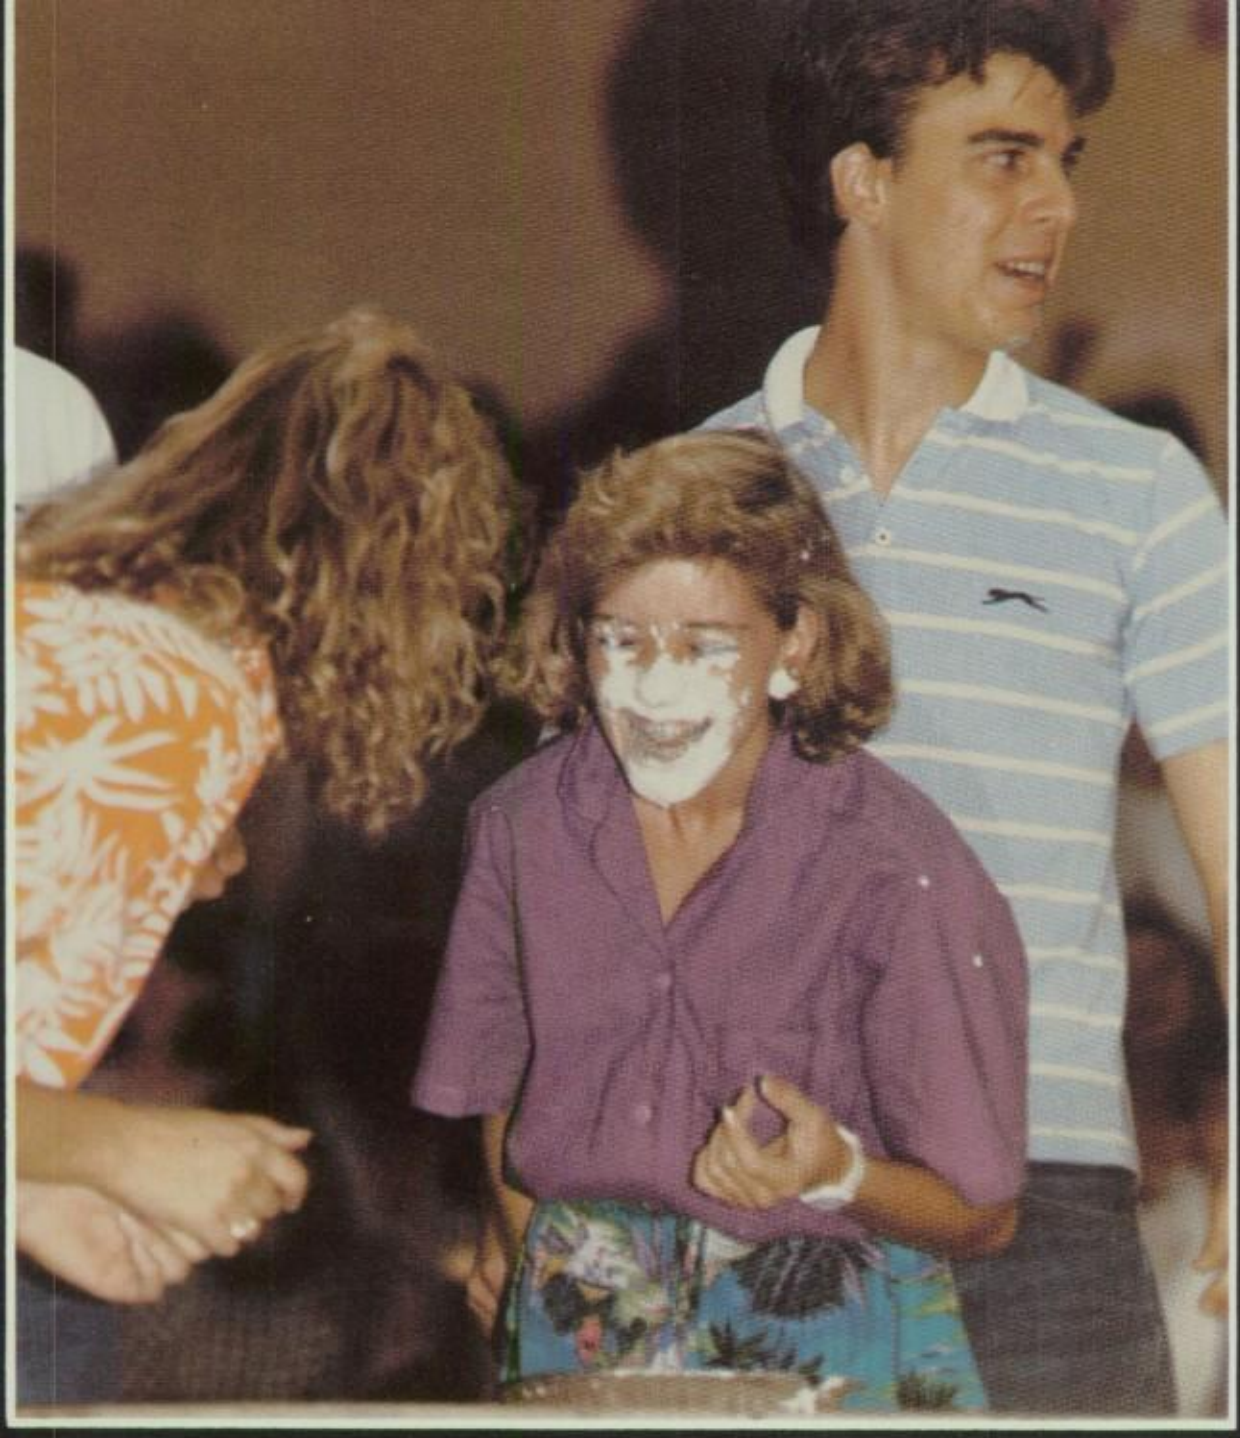
a. Rowdy as always the "Cooler kid", Lori Young, cheers for the Cougars.
b. Our school D.J., Robert Donelson, is the only one who finds his jokes amusing.
c. In Mr. Nice Guy's class, Brian Staab jokes with Monica Michaels about his pre-calculus grade.
d. Megan Riker pleads, "Don't tell the coach" as she is caught pigging out during the cross country season.
e. Freshmen, Jennifer Mallinger, gets into her work as she looks for a piece of gum during a class competition.
f. Trying to look presentable, Rachel Lueke leaves the library after a study period.
g. Ruth Barnett and friends desperately seek men.



Everyday, one faces the sea of statistics, searching for a way to be recognized as an individual. Many times one can become lost and frustrated in this adventure, however, one usually never stops searching around every corner in the process. One must realize that today is for discovering and trying new ideas. Many of these ideas turn out to be flimsy illusions that eventually leave us with nothing. One must continue the search for the beat of a different drum. Arguments arise from our inborn desire to free oneself from the ties which hold are individuality together. One must break the bonds which do not allow freedom of choice. There is a big world out there and a person must experience it day by day.

THERE'S ONE IN EVERY DAY

D

Having experienced the Thrill of Victory and the Agony of Defeat, we have matured by our involvement in SPORTS. Along with long, hard practice, athletes have grown and matured by their handling of pressure and responsibility. Joining a team is not an individual job, but a complete Group effort, and as an individual, one finds satisfaction while performing with his or her team. Through competition a man or woman strives to prove themselves. Through sports one can build their mind and body to cope with the present and prepare for the future. Being active in an E.H.S. sport can have an influence on a person's future. Hopefully everyone involved in a sport this year had a great time.

c. Overpowering the Eagle runners, Jose Martinez leads the pack.
d. Danielle Silva observes Kristi Adkins practicing her overhead.
e. Trying to improve his strength, Joshua Gordon, a J.V. football player, climbs the peg board.
f. The only girl on the water polo team, Cheryl Tahija displays her prowess in the water.
g. The varsity cross country team faces a grueling race against San Pasqual at Kit Carson Park.

Everyone has experienced a first love and eventually the first break-up. Whether it be the real thing or only puppy love a person has most luckily been involved in a relationship before. Many people have found "the right person" in life, while others have not. Don't ever stop looking. There is someone out there whom God created for you and for you only. Look for someone who makes you feel loved and who is polite and truly considerate. Many have felt that wonderful feeling when being with that special person. Love is a complicated risk usually with lots of pain. Being shy is sometimes a big hazard, but there just might be someone out there as shy as you are. Don't ever stop reaching out for that someone special.

Who's seeing who?" "Doesn't she look funny tonight?" Many times we picked up on gossip at games we went to. The games where everyone cuddled up to freeze the night away. Many times the temperature was so low that the cheerleaders, band members, and finally the football players cuddled or huddled as the case may be. The fans put forward a tremendous effort, despite the extreme temperature, to show their COUGAR SPIRIT. Many parents show up to cheer and support their children perform on this night. Many participants spend a week getting ready for this game. Every week holds a new experience and challenge involved with every game.

a. Brian Partridge shows the wrong way to diagram, in Ms. Coolidge's English class.
b. Jeff Hopkins and Erin Michals laugh as a friend asks if they will follow in their older siblings footsteps.
c. During Mr. Walker's health and Safety class sophomore, Casey Kelly, takes notes about the opposite sex.
d. An academically gifted senior, Chris Henry, contemplates which end of the pencil to put in the sharpener.
e. Quicker than lightening Torrey "Rebel" Henson sneaks a bite while Sadnick isn't watching.

THERE'S ONE IN EVERY CLASS

A student spends most of their time in class, whether it be in Spanish, math, drama, or history. The student somehow finds ways to make this time more bearable. It might be donut runs, parties, film strips and last but not least everyone's favorite hobby, talking. Many young adults are yelled at everyday to quiet down and listen to the discussions. Usually a person receives a few warnings before quieting down. It is the practice of some teachers to give homework every night, some teachers even try to give homework over the summer. Every night you make a choice to either do your homework or not to do your homework. Usually your decision reflects the grade that you receive. Hopefully a student has realized that the easiest way to get a period over is to listen to the teacher and not look at the clock every five minutes.

During our years in high school, teachers have been actively involved in shaping our lives for the future. Our teachers have been more than just teachers; they have been friends. They are readily available to help students personally, as well as academically. The enthusiasm for learning that they convey is transferred to the students and it will stay with us forever.

The counselors at Escondido High have made it their job to get involved in our lives. They give their assistance to us in choosing our classes, making conclusive decisions for after high school, whether it be college, or a full-time job. Also, helping with our personal problems, the counselors have been great!

When we were alone we had the time to recollect the Good Times. Maybe a senior barbeque or a memorable game was on our mind. Saturday night often occupied our thoughts. At times it was the test we failed or passed with flying colors. Some of our best times spent in high school were the times we were alone.

a. James Montoya, displays his hunger after an unsuccessful senior bar-b-que.
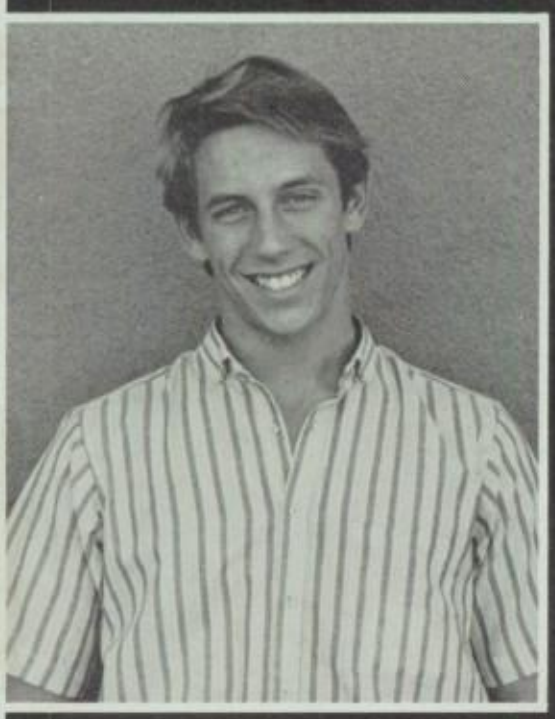
c. Winner of the 1985 "Gumby look-a-like contest", Toby Zachary displays his trophy.
d. Trying to stay awake during a lengthy Civics lecture, Tryn Peterson dazes into space.

Leading Football Receiver: Scott Weedman



1st in Science at Academic Decathalon: Dan Cripe

Just think that you or one of your friends may be the next President of the U.S. This might not happen, but there are many Escondido High Students who have possibilities to become highly successful. Only time will tell what lies in our futures. We have the ability to direct our futures. We already have started achieving goals. Escondido High school is proud of it's students. Everyone has achieved in one way or another. We as Cougars are proud of our achievers and wish everyone a successful future.

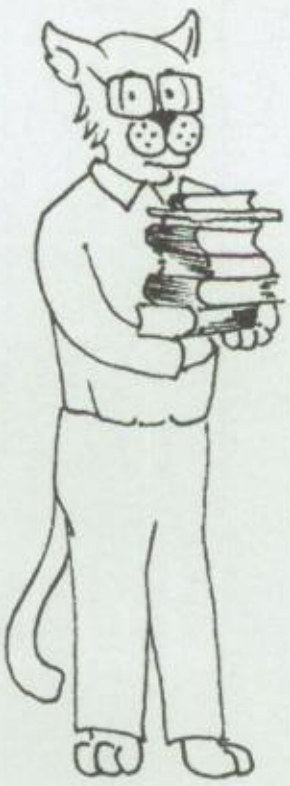
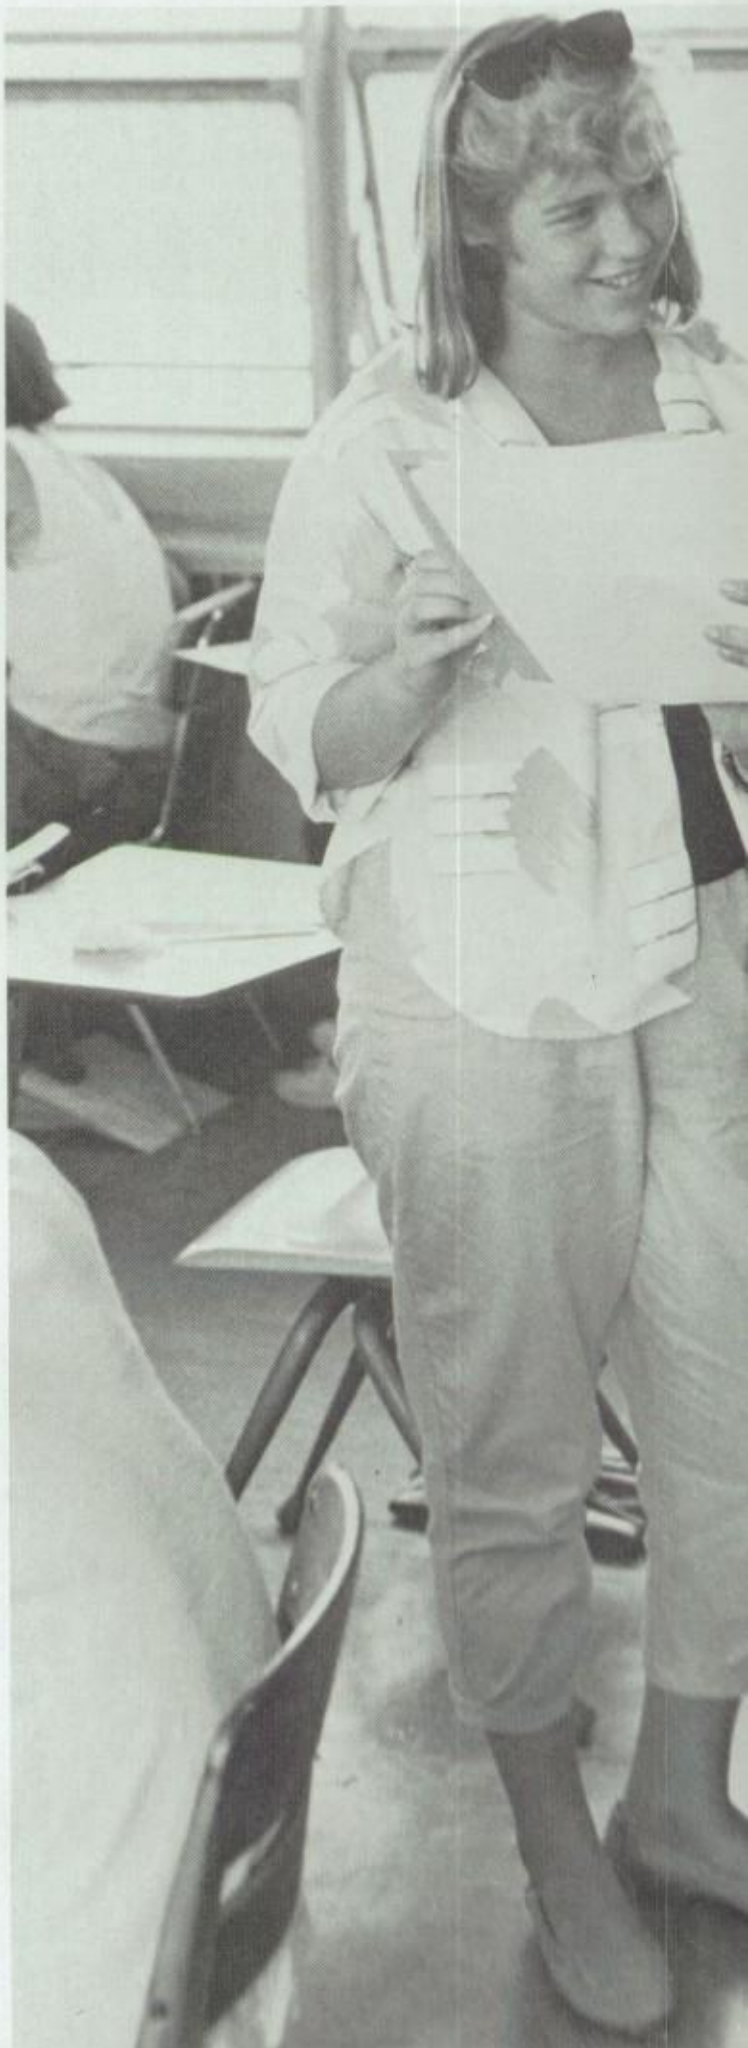
THE ONES WHO HAVE ACHIEVED

ACADEMICS





Height is one reason a person might stand out in a crowd, but for Brian Partridge his 6 foot 4 inch frame is only one in a series of reasons. Brian is an extremely bright and sometimes bizarre person.

Brian is very active in school activities. He is vice president of the science club, a swimmer for the swim team, and plays on the water polo team. He is also on the Honor Roll. Brian's best friend, Dan Cripe says, "Brian is even into reading encyclopedias!" Brian ponders the past, "I decided to swim the 500 meter freestyle on the advice of swimming captain Dan Cripe, and I won." Monica Phillips described Brian once by saying, "He has strange taste in clothes." That doesn't appear to bother Monica or his other friends at all.

Academics

A foreign exchange student, Karen Goeler, has no trouble at all in her language class.

Foreign Language

French and Spanish are the two foreign languages offered at EHS. In these classes students spend many hours conjugating verbs. Mr. Kyte and Mr. Aviles try to make the classes as exciting as possible by having things like cultural awareness day.

Business

There are many types of business classes available such as Accounting, Business Law, and Computers. Taking these business classes may help you to choose a career. Accounting teaches you to keep financial records and fill out financial statements. In computers you learn the basics of programming and pick up a few typing skills.

b. Kim Brown types a letter to Don Johnson.
c. Computer genious, John McMahon, tries breaking into the school's new attendance system.

d

d. Mr. Johnson does 2 things at once: helps Dawn Weisser while listening to Nicole Bonaparte.
e. Trace Segal prepares to give her best speech.

Speech

In speech students learn to overcome their fear of speaking in front of groups. They begin with introductory speeches and work up to controversial subjects. The students are assigned a topic and then later asked to give a speech on it. Sometimes they are asked to give impromptu speeches. Some seniors take speech instead of English to complete their graduation requirement.

Homemaking

Planning on moving out sometime in the near future, but don't know how to cook? The homemaking class might be a good option. The first semester is spent learning to cook ethnic foods, suppers, and luncheons. Second semester is spent sitting at a sewing machine. Students are taught the basics of sewing and are required to make a two-piece outfit.

a. Louisa Elkins puts deep concentration into slicing a cube of butter.
b. Natalie Brackenbury samples her cooking during her Homemaking class.

Mrs. Eichten advises her consumer's class on how to budget one's monthly income.

Consumer Education

Seeing how it is a graduation requirement to take a semester of Consumer Education, Mrs. Eichten tries to help the students as much as possible in such a short period of time. In this class students learn how to purchase items economically, and be an informed consumer.

Health And Safety

Sophomores are required to take one semester of Health and Safety. First aid, the musculatory system, the skeletal system, and the dangers of drugs and alcohol, are the areas stressed in this course. Mental health and birth defects are briefly covered in this class.

c. Mr. Walker displays his good nature and witty humor to his sophomore Health and Safety class.
e. Susan Janovitz gets first hand experience while wrapping Susan Aranda's injured arm.

e

Art

a. Mrs. Petersen's art students do rough drawings of their final projects.
b. Rachel Afaese shows her asthetic qualities through her drawings.
c. An art student works on her line drawing.

There is not enough emphasis placed on the importance of art. In the art class there is much emphasis placed on developing skills in three dimensional design, basic drawing, calligraphy, and creative expression. Art classes can be a lot of fun and are enjoyed by many students.

d

d. Jonas Banks thinks about someone special as he plays the guitar.
e. Part of the music department is the marching band that performs during football halftimes and enters parades and competitions.

e

Music

There are many talented students in this year's music department. The marching band took awards under the instruction of Mrs. Bleher. This year's music department consists of the Noteables, Show Pop, Stage band, and the Marching band.

Photo

Photo is only a semester class, but in that short amount of time a great deal is learned. Things such as lighting, composition, depth of field, developing, and printing are learned. Some of the different projects are taking pictures of people, animals, or moving objects. Some of this years photo students won ribbons at the Del Mar fair for their pictures.

a. After one semester of photo, Adrian Zarty shows Kim Cale an amazing thing - film!
b. Michelle Howard does a fine job of printing pictures.
c. Rick Afenir loads one of many many rolls of film used in photography.

d

f

d. Senior girls use their P.E. period to practice for the powder puff game.
e. Senior James Mantaya smacks the ball with power during P.E.
f. Dina Manning shows Julie Van Dyke her physical flexibility.

P.E.

Physical education is still everybody's favorite class. This year the classes were not co-ed and we did not choose the sport which we were to play. Some of the sports offered were softball, tennis, racquetball, basketball, aerobics, and weight training. The freshmen were once again required to take four weeks of swimming.

Wood

Lift top boxes, cutting boards, and lathe projects are some of the things you'll find students working on first semester in Woodshop, as they are all required projects. Second semester, Mr. Sprague allows the students to choose their own projects. Some of the students build things such as skateboards, stereo cabinets, or book shelves.

c. Jeffery Landis anxiously awaits the completion of his project.
d. David Vargas squares his piece of wood.

Metal

Metal shop students learn arc welding, gas welding, and sheet metal projects. Some of the things students make are dust pans, cold chisels, and candle stick holders.

a. A student grinds his project.
b. Another busy day in metal shop.

Josh Miller works on his drafting project.

Drafting

If you are a good math student, especially in geometry, you will make an excellent drafting student. Students are required to learn how to do freehand sketching, do three dimensional work, and use basic drafting equipment.

Agriculture

Agriculture is the science of the production of plants and animals. Some raise animals which they show at the Del Mar Fair. After the competition the animals are sold. In the second semester, the student farm is turned into a vegetable garden where the students are involved in planting and cultivating the vegetables.

a. Tim Cale poses for this months issue of F.Q. (Farmer's Quarterly).
b. Four little pigs wait for their passionate kiss from a cheerleader.

Jim Fouste and Pat Brandon look for their gas cap.
Danny Lechuga checks out his engine.

d

Auto

In auto shop students learn everything from changing a tire to putting a carborator together. Students work on their own cars along with classroom work.

f

e. Robyn Moore and Kim Cale go out for a spin in the simulators.
f. Kim Revilla honks at the crazy driver in front of her.

Drivers Education

Drivers education is a semester class offered to all sophomores. Students are taught the laws and regulations needed in order to pass the California driving test. The driving part of the class is offered before and after school only. Students also learn the disasterous effects of mixing alcohol and driving.

Social Science

World Geography, U.S. History, and Civics are all required for graduation. U.S. History classes are filled with juniors and a few lagging seniors. Civics teachers, Bob McKinley and Theron Preston, are fortunate enough to have the seniors, always begging and groveling for that D-needed to graduate. The year's seniors were able to avoid taking world geography as it became a requirement starting with the class of '87.

a. Orlando Bakerink and Doug Larson get caught taking doughnuts to their girlfriends at Grant Middle School.
b. Leticia Ham finds the photographer more interesting than Mr. Bush's homework assignment.
c. Looking rather dapper, Bob McKinnley imitates John Travolta.

d

d. "Parts is parts."
e. Steve Fenster becomes entranced while observing dinoflagellates through the microscope.
f. Felicia Smith and Kim Cale heat an unknown substance as Michelle Hall waits for disaster to strike.

f

College bound students can be found taking Biology, College Chemistry, and Physics. For students just looking to meet the graduation requirement, there is Life or Physical Science and Consumer Chemistry. One year of science is required to graduate. At least two years of science are required to attend a four year college.

Math

Math is an essential part of the learning process. The concepts from General Math to Pre-Calculus are learned by students of all grades. The students are allowed to choose the level of math which they wish to complete. There is a preferred sequence of math classes, but students may change the order. Although only two years of math are required, for some, that is one year too many!

a. Lisa Steinbaum finds her pre-calculus class from Mr. Arner tougher than her classes at O.G.
b. Mr. Arner crouches down so he doesn't tower over Megan Riker while checking her intergrations.
c. Gina Pino gets help solving a problem from Mrs. Anderson.

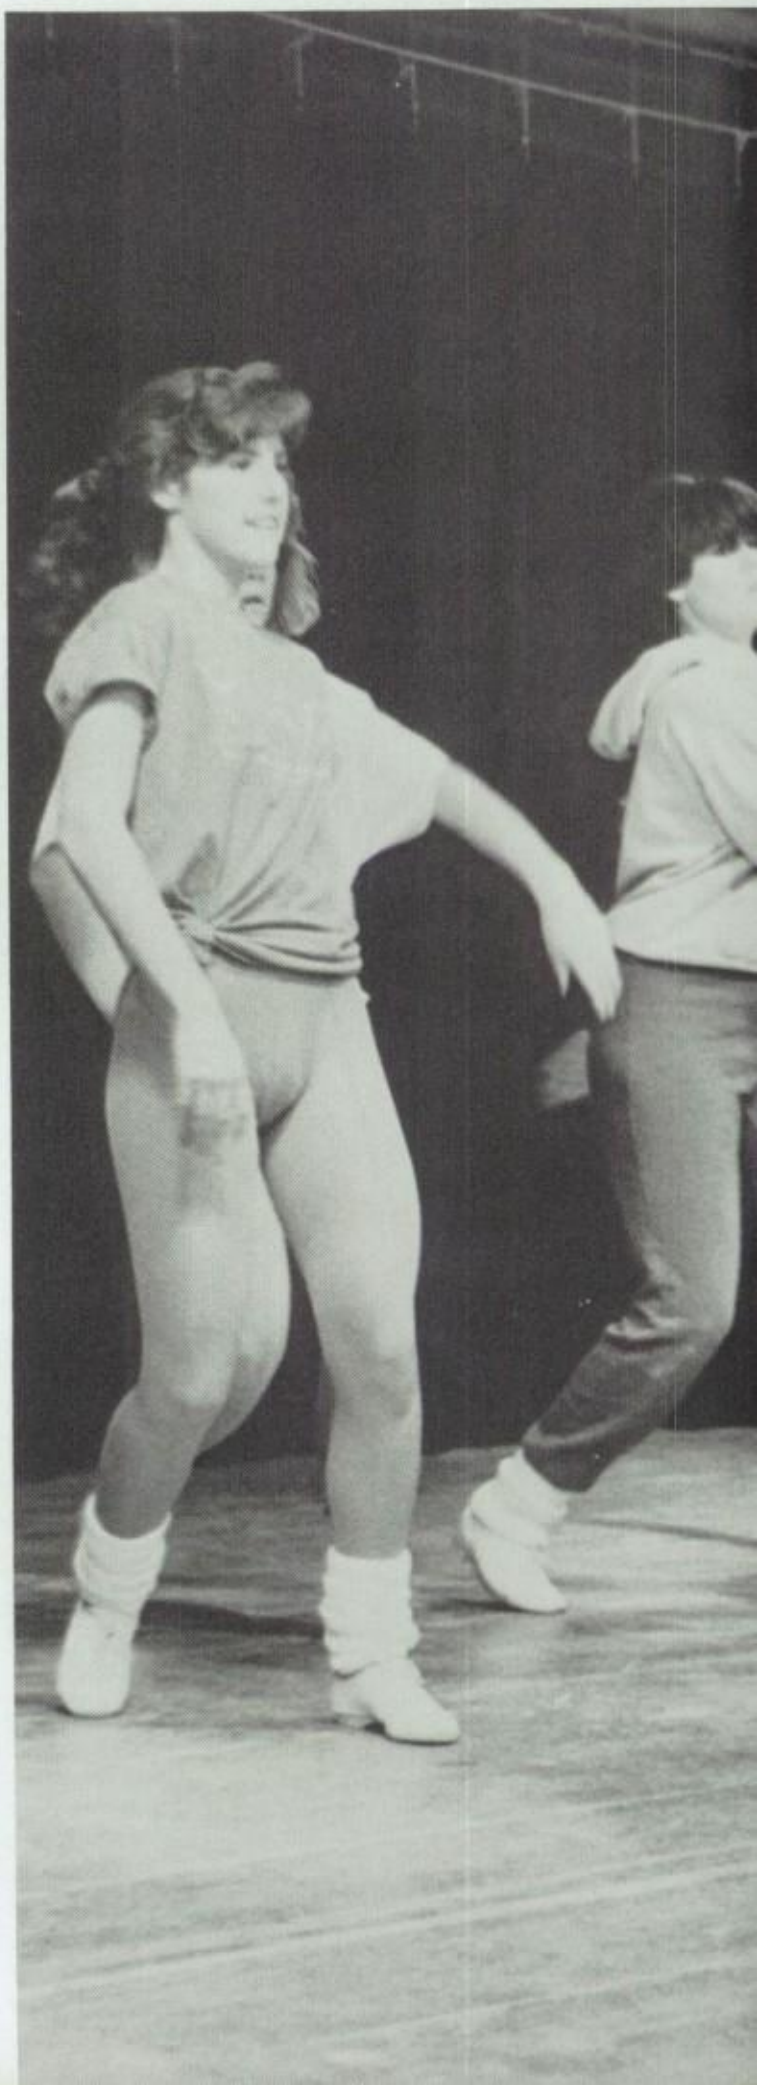
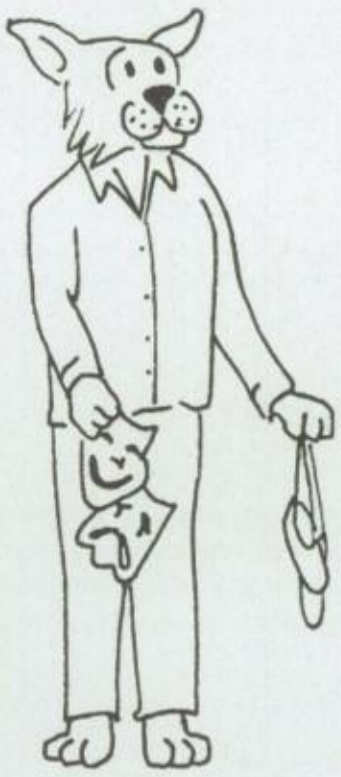
d. Tony Figueroa dreams that his English composition is complete.
e. David McClintic tries to finish his homework before the weekend.
f. An English student looks to see if she has spelled San Diego correctly.

English

Three and one half years of English are required to graduate, though most students stick it out and go the full four years. In our exciting, fun-filled English classes we learn such things as punctuation, grammar, vocabulary, and literature. A reminder to all incoming GATE and code I juniors and seniors: February 18th is Nancy Collidge's birthday.

ORGANIZATIONS





Anna Lamme, not only is a very busy person at school, but works two outside jobs at the Yogurt Company and After Dark. Our former Junior Class president is a volleyball player, a drama student, a dancer, and has been a foreign exchange student in France. While interviewing her during her journalism class we discovered a very serious but sometimes funny A.S.B. cabinet member. Anna relays, "I love cheerleaders, I love high school relationships, and the green top is my favorite place to be. I was very depressed when all the pine trees died." Anna belongs to many organizations, but enjoys those best that emphasize the welfare of the student body. My most embsrrassing experience was on a date with Bill Lewis. We were parked in front of my house. My family blinked the lights on and off to signal it was time to go in just as Bill leaned over to kiss me. I pulled away, he missed the kiss and hit the bottom of my face instead!

Drama

Starting the year out right, EHS dramatics presented Avant Garde, which turned out to be a tremendous success. The night of one act plays, a box office success, was directed by advanced drama students. Providing an opportunity for underclassmen, the one acts were a valuable learning experience for everyone involved.

The drama club is an organization open to all students. The class taught by our experienced drama coach, Mr. Bob Johnson, provides experience for students in theatre arts. Performing a monologue in front of a class is an example of the skill learned.

The highlight of the year was the production of Agatha Cristie's The Hollow. This classic English thriller for only 12 characters was expertly directed by Bob Johnson. With an excellent group of talented students, Mr. Johnson has drastically improved the drama department by leaps and bounds.

Missy Wallace and Ron Perkins are surprised at all the lines they must memorize.

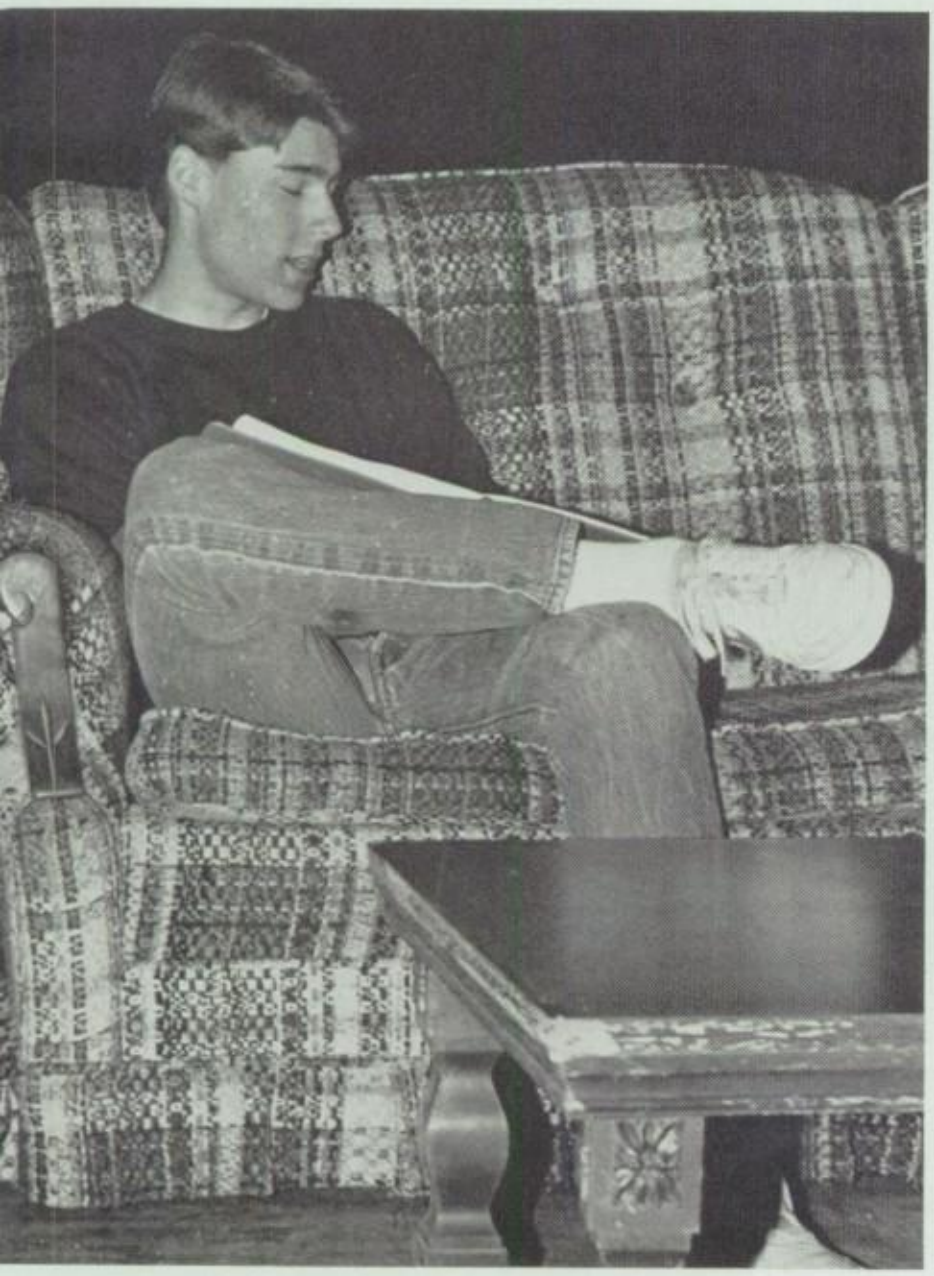
During Overtones Shelli Herman, Debbie Huber, Stefani Henson, and Joanni Stangl show their double personalities.

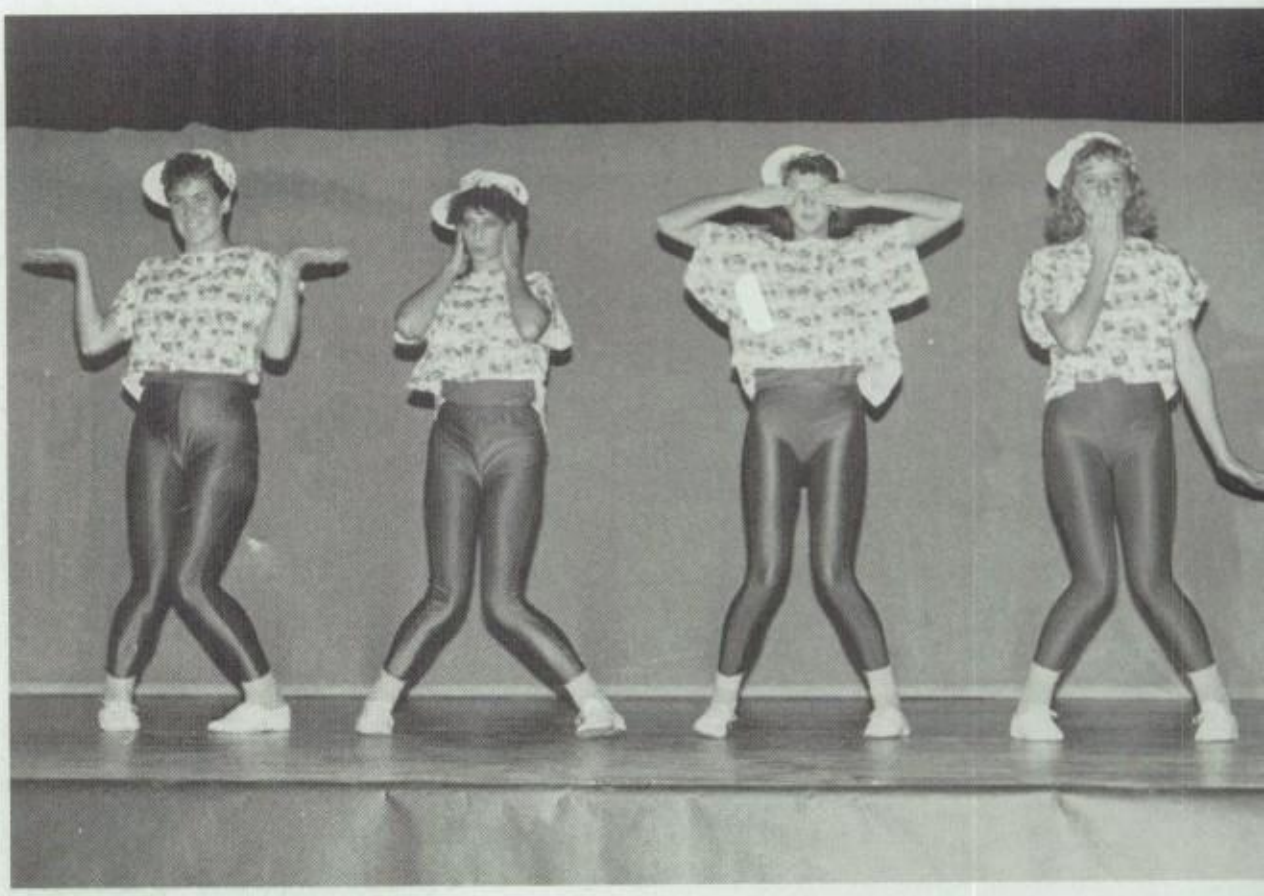
Mary Aranda is a senior and a Drama IV student. Her credits include the Lottery, That's Rich, and A Christmas Carol. Mary directed the one act play Undercurrents, and appeared in Agatha Christie's The Hollow.



While reading his script Robbie Johnson falls asleep.

Erica Perkins and Tom Young argue over who will play snow white in the play.

Kelly Mueller, Monica Michals, Jennifer Staab, and Julie VanDyke show their innocence by pretending to be the four monkeys.



Dance

The advanced dance class, composed of sophomores, juniors, and seniors, is taught by Jane Rattman. In order to be enrolled in the class, the students must try out. The first semester is devoted to preparing for the annual dance concert. All the dances in the concert are choreographed by the students. During the second semester, the students are presented with different types of dances.

Row 1: Nick Scales, Ricky Afenir. Row 2: Teresa Embry, Kelly Decker, Monica Michals, Jill Moody, Denise Hoksbergen, Lisa Perez, Renee Weisser, Michelle Miarez, Melissa Wallace. Row 3: Lynn Harrison, Sandy Rensfield, Rachel Machin, Kim Maco, Ester Parrow, Julie Van Dyke, Julie Hendrickson, Sabrina Machin, Camille Ellinger, Rosie Alvarez, April Nagle, Leslie Aldaco. Row 4: Kim Nichols, Kim Truman, Tu Sengchanthalagsy, Tina Hall, AnaMarie Lamme, Kris Feik, Kelly Mueller, Teri Dover, Mary Aranda, Heather Dow, Raquel Nunez, Jennifer Staab, Trisha Breer, Gina Pino

Nick Scales and Ricky Afenir argue over whose chest is more muscular.

Leslie Aldaco shows her pearly whites again, again, again

Through their synchronicity, Rachel and Sabrina Machin show that "Sisters will be Sisters."

Sandy Rensfield has contributed very much to the dance class the past three years. This year, she choreographed the class dance for thirty-six dancers. She is an excellent dancer and has a positive personality.

Cougar

Tryn Peterson works on the next issue of the Cougar.

Karen Heide is the editor of the Cougar. As editor, she has worked dilligently in organizing the staff's efforts. Hers is a demanding and highly responsible position.

The Cougar staff publishes the school newspaper. Publishing includes financing the paper through ad sales and fundraisers, writing articles, typesetting, and printing. Their goals are to publish a quality newspaper for the school, develop leadership skills, increase staff responsibility, and increase student involvement at our school. They hope to attend the Journalism Education Association's Spring Convention.

Vicki Pyle is one of many outstanding students that made the yearbook happen. As editor of the Student Life section, her responsibilities spanned the entire year covering all the schools important events. Her dedication kept her after school many days working on pictures and layouts, something all the EHS students will remember for years to come.

Under the inspired direction of Mary Aranda, our fourth successive female editor, this year's Gong staff has produced a book of which we are all very proud. Mary not only guided the production of the entire book, but, with the help of Dawn Weisser, created the opening and closing sections and the division pages.

This year's Gong is chock full of new ideas and inspirations. Our section editors, Megan Yancey, Catherine Benson, Vicki Pyle, Kim Cale, and Shelley Bruemmer, used our theme "there's ONE in every crowd' as an effective vehicle to highlight outstanding students. Although these students are not necessarily the best at what they do, they are all unique - the point we wished to make. The Faculty section also tried something new in the classification of the EHS staff according to their astrological signs.

Although our missed deadlines often ignited the dreaded "wrath of Sadnick," our advisor, Gary Sadnick was the glue that held this book together. The whole staff, from photographers to typists owe him a great deal and joins in offering Mr. Sadnick it's sincerest thanks.

Jeff Partridge is ca tain of the team t year because he is sw to "buzz in" with t winning answer. W ning is a team effort a one person cannot wi match without te help.

Academic Decathlon

Dan Cripe played an important role in the Academic Decathlon, because he not only excelled on the science test but he also placed second out of all participators from fifty schools.

Row 1: Tryn Peterson, Thanh Huynh, Han To, Monica Phillips, Row 2: Dan Cripe, April Milner, Scott Strosnider, Christine Ilic

The Academic Decathlon, coached by Theron Preston, is a group of students who participated in a county-wide scholastic competition held in November of 1985. They were judged in ten events including a written essay, a speech, a personal interview, and six academic areas. Besides participating in the actual competition, team members spent a weekend at Mr. Preston's cabin at Green Valley Lake and visited the Los Angeles Art Museum.

CSF

Lynn Borowitz, a senior, has the highest grade point average through her junior year for active members, and has earned life membership in the program.

The California Scholarship Federation is the official state organization for recognition to high academic standards among students. CSF is one of the oldest clubs here. Students earning Life Membership receive special recognition at graduation and have a gold seal placed on their diploma. It is an outstanding reference when applying for college and work later in life.

Their goals include being recognized and honoring those students who have achieved a 3.4 grade point average or better in a college preparatory program.

Pep Club

The Pep Club painted signs for various activities. They help to encourage school spirit and promote enthusiasm for the school. Their fundraisers include a bake sale and a sweatshirt promotion.

Row 1: Ethan Ninnell, Brenda Lee, Mike Royce, Dawn Dunn, Erik Thomas, Row 2: Don Davis, Danny Dunn, Colleen Murray, Denice Salyer, Tom Milks, Row 3: Jeff Holemo, Joanne Lannom, Greg Dozier, Jenny Rozsko, Traci Plummer, Kara Perry, Row 4: Tawny Wilstermann, Alicia Camacho, Francis Camacho, Dorthy Lannom, Denise Espudo

Holly Greiss is th president of the Pe Club. She has good organ zational skills and respec for the members of th club, as well as enthusiasm for all she does.

FFA

Future Farmers of America is a national organization for boys and girls with the purpose of developing leadership, citizenship, and co-operation. This organization's major goals are to teach the students more about the subject matter they are studying in vocational agriculture, and to become the most active organization on the EHS campus. The members participate in several judging events during the year, with the state finals held at San Luis Obispo serving as the finale. At the end of the year they had their annual parent son/daughter banquet for awards. During the summer FFA members exhibit animals at the Del Mar Fair.

Greg Dozier is a senio this year and hold the office of president. H has been an active membe of our chapter for the pas four years. As a junior h received his state farme degree. This is quite a honor, since only three pe cent of the state-wid membership receive th degree. This year Greg ha applied to become the Sta Regional Farmer, and has good chance of receivin this honor as well. Greg is fun loving kid with grea potential as a club leader

Safe-Way

Safe-Way is a chapter of S.A.D.D. (Students Against Drunk Drivers). The name was changed from S.A.D.D. to sound more positive to the community and campus. Developing a safe ride system available to the community on weekends and holidays, along with making the students more aware of drunk drivers is their goal. Guest speakers and trips to the Oasis Program were some of the highlights of the year.

Mary Fifield is a sophomore and an efficient Vice-President for Safe-Way. With Mary's help the communication lines with the public are kept open.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Education Club encourages students to learn skills which can earn them a living once they finish school. It also provides funds to award and honor outstanding students in each of the areas of Industrial Education.

Beau Harmon does outstanding work in drafting. He goes beyond his regular assignments. His desire to do well also has an influence on the other.

Associated Student Body

The ASB has done a great job in making closed campus bearable. They provided music during lunch, sponsored several bar-B-Q's and opened a student store. They also lead the school's student government and organize many after school activities, including dances.

Row 1: Sabrina Cruz, Celeste Valdes, Angie Baber, Megan Riker, Brian Staab, Orlando Bakerink, Ron McCowan, Rob Pool, Mike McArdle, Row 2: Brian Snyder, Wendy Hale, Dawn Weisser, Margie Vogt, Yvette LaMar, Denise Hoksbergen, Michele Lenberg, Crystal England, Karen Brindley, Robert Donelson. Row 3: Penny Phelan, Owen Tunnell, Mary Aranda, Robyn Keske, Anamarie Lamme, Michelle Pledger, Karen Heidi, Laura Benson, Tryn Peterson, Brenda Rios, Franci Collamen, Row 4: Sanet Painter, Heidi Kukman, Holly Griess, Toby Zachry, Rachel Machin, Martha Landers, Byron Ellison, Sam Meccalf, Hadia Haat, Eva Shinnerl, Lori Romberg, Raquel Nuner, Row 5: Jenni Roszko, Jim McCarthy, Margaret Davis, Ruth Barnett, Kristen Rozenko, Andre Beach, Kelly Klungreseter, Shelly Clark, Row 6: Huy Nguyen, Mike Scales, Kyle Brown, Armando Chacon, Mary Ross, Vicki Rohlmeier, Jeff Hopkins, Jeff Morris, John Cruz, Row 7: Beau Harmon, Jeff Pike, Ken Mason, Bob Crawford, Sheri Ellerbe, Lee Pearson, Jenny Schweibold, Marsha Vreeker, Brooks Barnhard, Katie Shuga, Melissa Brown, Susan Aranda, Gina Pino, Simon Cambra, Brian Fee, Daryl Racz, Stan Hunter

Laura Benson is a ASB student representative. She participates in the meetings and then reports items of interest to her classmates the next day.

Foreign Exchange

This year there were foreign exchange students from two places. Brazil sent four students, and Argentina sent two. They stay with families of students at EHS and share cultures with us all.

Row 1: Karen Goeler, Raquel Nunes, Row 2: Maria Acosta, Renata Andrade, Row 3: Victor Rivas

Raquel Nunes is seventeen years old and from Brazil. She is staying with Paul, Gayanne, Christi, and Jeffrey Cook - her American family. She is an active member in the chess club and took part in the Dance Concert.

Science

Andrea Dresselhaus is the co-secretary-treasurer of the science club. She is responsible for planning activities and keeping club records. She is able to keep the club and its members moving toward new goals.

The science Club is a new organization this year and is open to all interested science students. Their goals include exploring the world of science through a ski trip to Big Bear, Catalina, and Scuba Diving. They also went campint to observe Halley's Comet.

Chess

Ike Fifield started playing chess in junior high school and belonged to the chess club his sophomore year. He informally played during lunchtime until the club was reorganized. Ike likes biking and reading, and his best subject in school is Algebra II.

Row 1: Jan Guttman, April Milner, Jim Fouste, Row 2: Ike Fifield, Raquel Nunes, Shannon Stuart, Gary Sadnick

Mr. Dodin was the former chess club advisor. Since he retired last year, the club was disbanded except for a few students who started playing chess during lunch in Mr. Cornelius' room. The club was re-organized by Gary Sadnick. The members major goals are to have fun playing chess, to learn new skills and strategies, and to keep young people off the greentop!

Noteables

The Noteables is the advanced vocal group here at EHS. In order to be in the class, the students must audition and have the instructor's approval. The Noteables' goals are to perform in the community as much as possible, and to sing for clubs, schools, and other organizations. The highlight of their year is their annual trip to the Reno International Jazz Festival.

Row 1: Holly Griess, Claudia Saye, Robyn Keske, Melinda Gonzalez, Row 2: Jose Figueroa, Gail Stucki, Karen Brightup, Richard Cabrera, Row 3: Thomas Young, Christopher Christman, Todd Handzlik

Melinda Gonzales ha been involved with the Music Department for four years. She sings alto and add a lot to the music program.

Concert Choir

The Concert Choir is open to all students who wish to sing. The choir explores many types of music from traditional to settings to popular music. The goals of concert choir are for the members to enjoy the art of singing and to be exposed to the different forms of vocal music. The choir performs concerts during the year and performs at a festival for San Diego county choirs.

Becky Bond contributes much toward the choir. She really enjoys singing an sets a good example for othe by her behavior while singing or listening.

Flag Corp/Marching Band

Karen Brightup was the captain of the Flag/Banner Corps. This was Karen's first year on the squad and she did a terrific job. She not only makes up the routines, but also teaches them to the squad. She sets a good example for the girls to insure that they will always be in top form for their performances. That is not an easy job, but she handled it very well.

The Flag/Banner Corps is open to all females wishing to be part of an active group participating with the band. Tryouts are held during the spring semester for the following year. Their major goal is to perform the best they can and, in doing this, support the school and show spirit. The Flag/Banner Corps travels with the band to parades and provides extra flair by carrying their banner and twirling flags.

Tina Lira, Vicky Martinez, Kim Tanner, Beckie Bond, Shawnna Swaney, Suzy Erickson, Karen Brightup, Adele Reynolds, Vicky Young, Kim Lothspeich, Michelle Flannery.

Matt Tucker was chosen by the students in the band to act as their president. He is their student leader and someone they talk to. Matt is also a very strong example for his fellow classmates.

The band is open to any student who plays an instrument and wants to be a part of the school activities. The marching band's major goals involve not only participating at our school activities but also challenging themselves as they compete with other high schools in parades and concert festivals.

The band has represented EHS in San Diego, Riverside, Yucaipa, and Escondido in participating parades. The band was also invited to play at the Civic Center Ground Breaking and the new May Co. opening at the North County Fair. The band will make a trip to Magic Mountain in the spring.

STUDENT LIFE

Brian Staab, our A.S.B. treasurer, is involved in many aspects of EHS. Besides A.S.B. Brian is involved in soccer. A sport he has played for eight years, Brian is our team's captain and played the goalie position. Pre-calculus is Brian's favorite class where he is a top student.

Brian thinks the morale of the student body has improved a great deal this year. He attributes much of this improvement to Mr. Moreno, the A.S.B. adviser. Mr. Moreno has put a new enthusiasm and vitality into the A.S.B.

Brian has applied to Chico State where he will study for an M.B.A. degree. Brian intends to become an accountant and eventually be a partner in an accounting firm.

Seniors At Their Best . . . Or Worst?

All through the senior year there were bad times as well as good times; but either way, they were unforgetable memories. The seniors showed a mature attitude about such happenings as closed campus and the absence of the traditional "senior ditch day". Although it is difficult saying good-bye to the last stage of adolescence, they are prepared and exhilarated at their future prospects.

The liveliness and enthusiasm with which seniors attacked everything was exemplified in what they accomplished. The class of 86' will always remember the joy as well as the sadness they experienced.

Karen "Spike" Brindley chokes on an imaginary hot dog.

Missy Wallace attempts to choke Kim Revilla so she can get a sip of Kim's Pepsi.

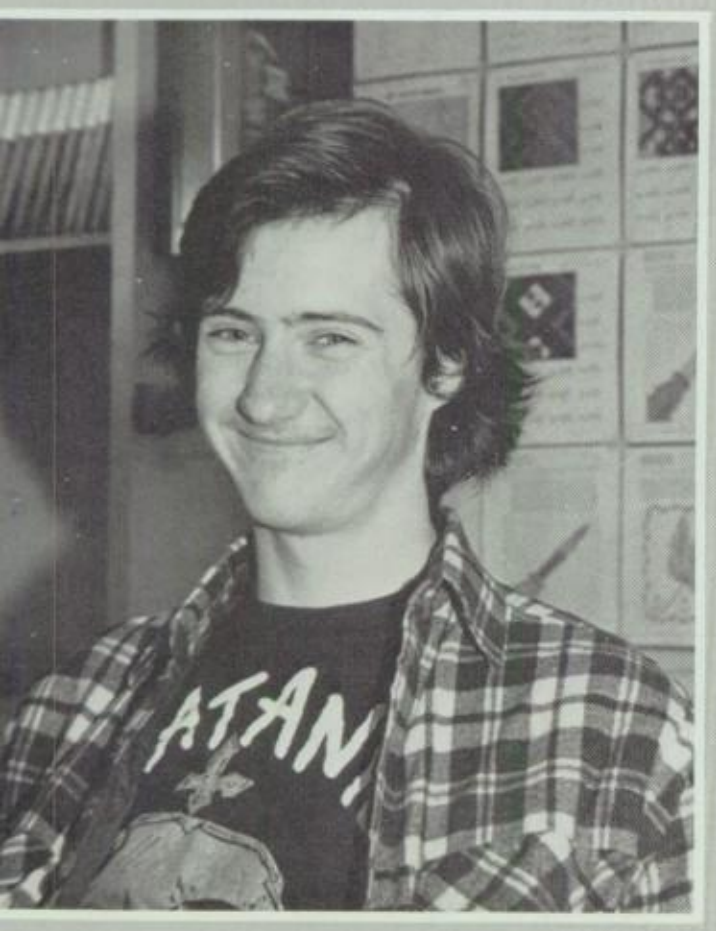
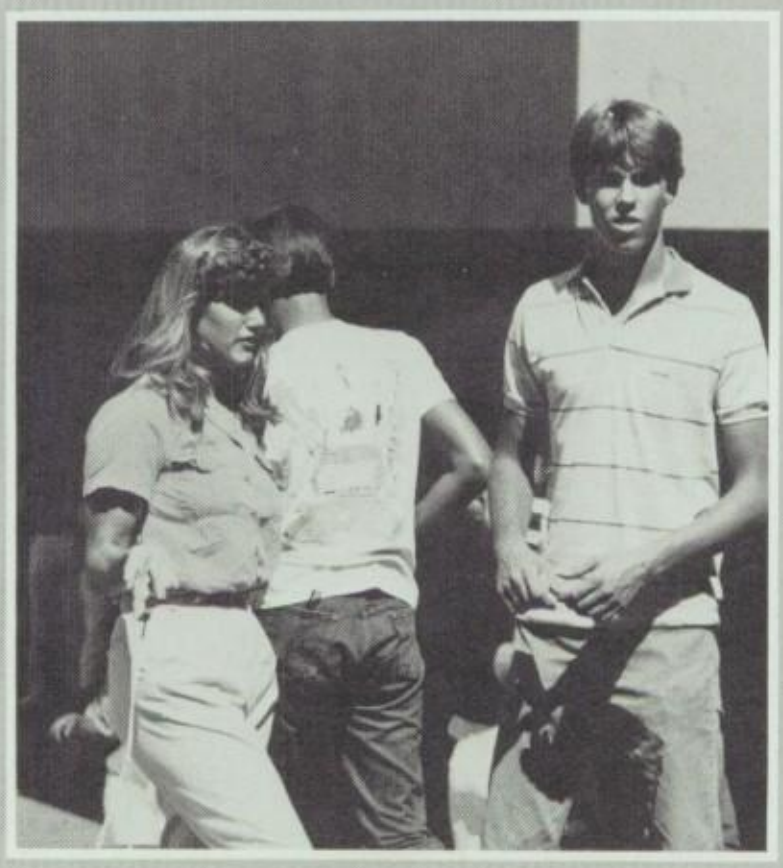
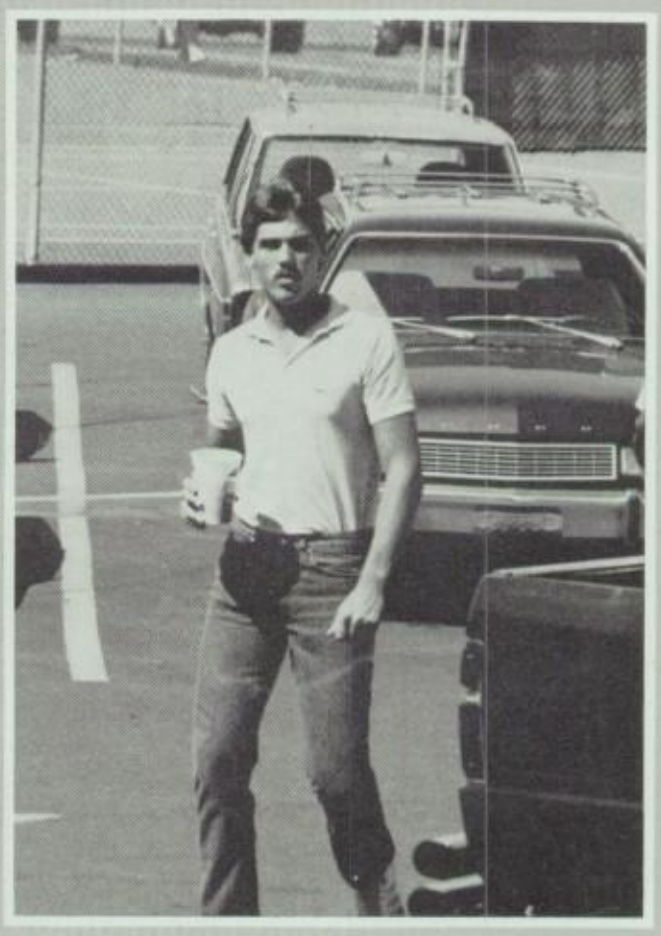
Chris Benson gives us a devilish smile.



April Milner struts her stuff for Ray Robertson.





Ed Holliday tries not to get caught when sneaking back on campus.

Christine Ilic laughs as Karen Heide takes a bite of the poisonous apple.

Powder Puff

The Powder Puff game is a tradition which allows the junior and senior girls to learn and play football. Both teams practiced almost every day to improve their skills. Although the game was postponed to a later date, the teams' spirits did not dampen; and they played their hardest. The final score was seniors-13 and juniors-7.

Kelley Mueller searches the field for junior players that aren't being covered.

Catherine Benson scares the junior girls with her remarkable coordination skills.

Sadie Hawkins

Scott Strosnider, Karen Heide, Dan Cripe, and Elizabeth Carroll pose for a moment before riding off into the sunset.

The Sadi Hawkins dance provides a chance for the girls and guys to switch positions and to see what the other goes through. The girls asked and paid for the date which included dinner, pictures, and a marriage booth. The dance, held on March 7th, was a fun experience for both the girls and guys.

"Wishful thinking"

Christine "Martha" Ilic and Brent "Farmer Brento" Spencer reminisce about them good ol' days back on the farm.

John Radcliff asks Missy Wallace, "Is this for real?"

Xavier Figueroa and Mila Whitman are glad they use close-up tooth-paste.

Mark Saxon and Heidi Heynen are really excited about getting married.

Liming The E

This year, as proof of our super school spirit, EHS freshmen re-limed the huge "E" on a mountain just north of the school. With the toughest seniors as their taskmasters, a select group of freshman labored for hours, moving rocks and spreading gypsum. Although the results were short-lived due to heavy rains, both the Seniors and the freshmen enjoyed their day, while showing their pride in EHS.

Luis Gonzales gets down on his hands and knees to cover every inch of the "E".

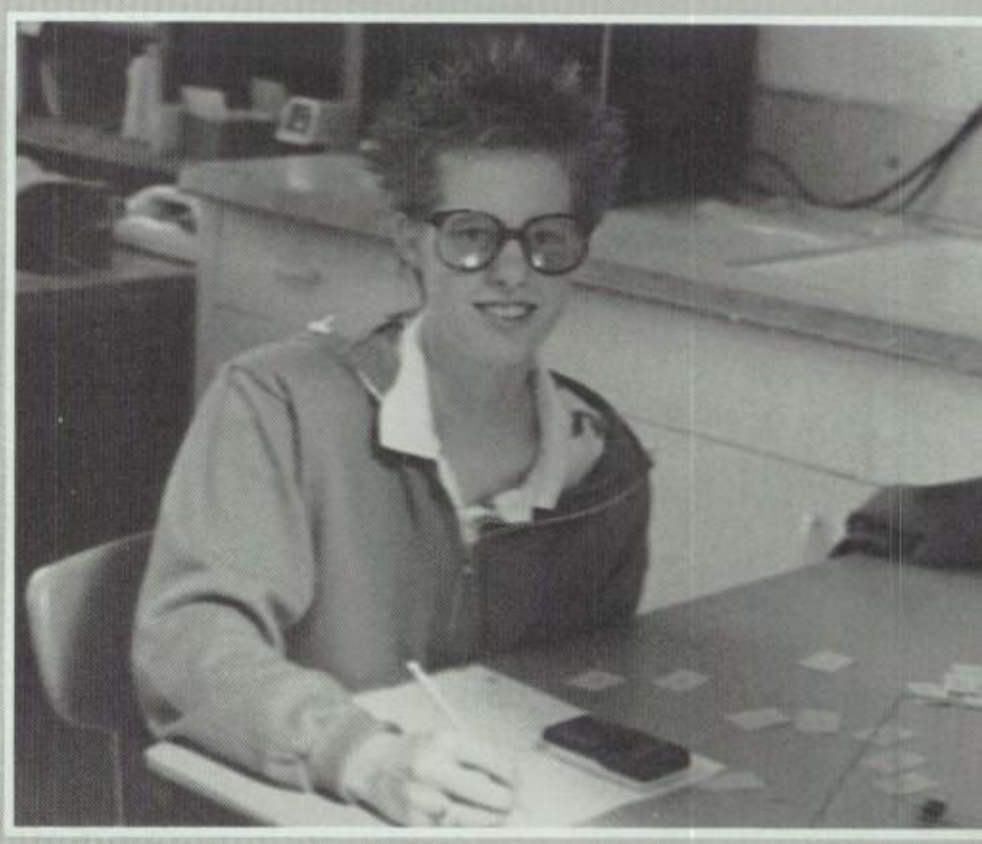
Fads

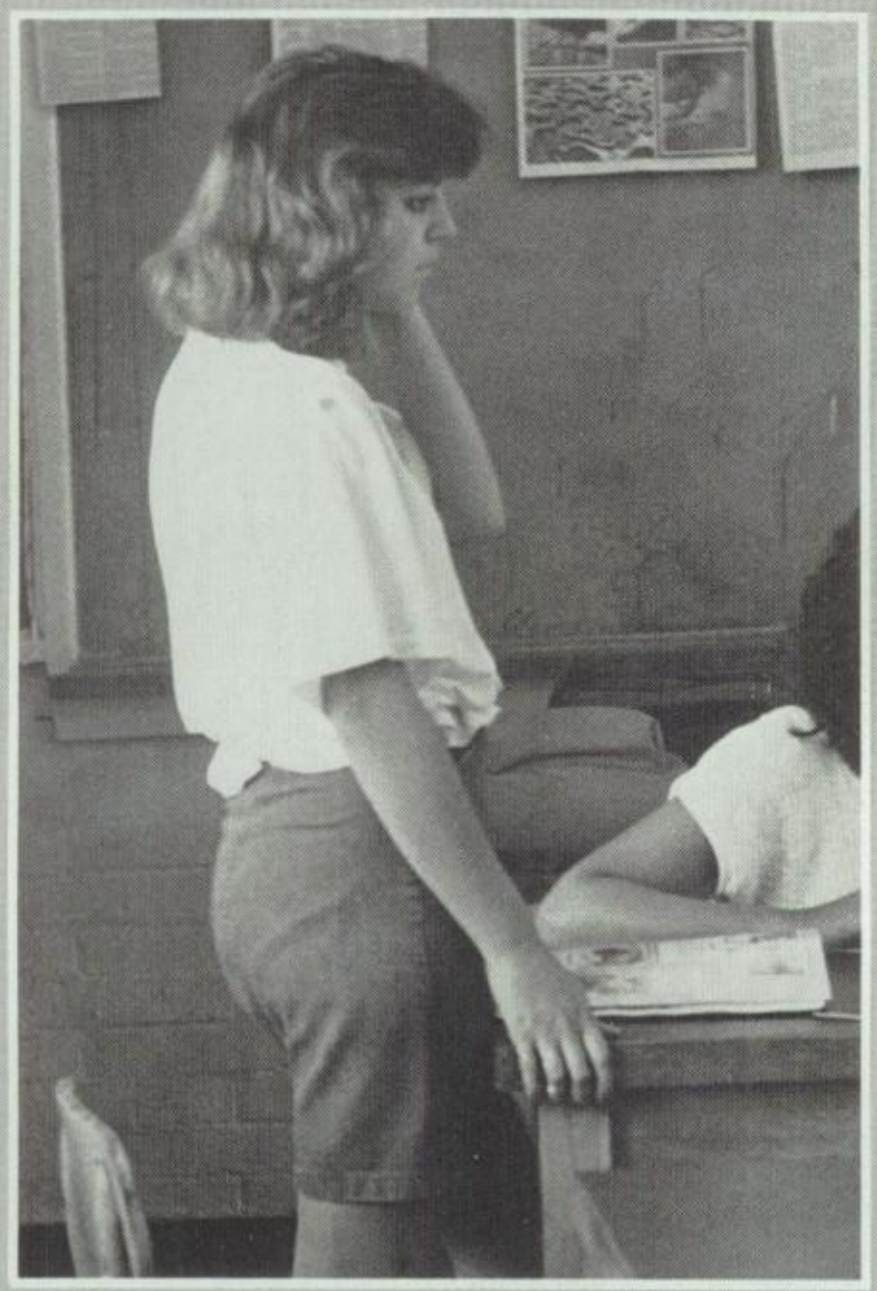
As time goes by fads continue to change. The pride of being different regardless of what others think is the prominent thing that keeps fads alive.

We all, at one time or another, feel the temptation of changing and being like most of our friends, in whatever form their fashion takes. The change may be in hair style or even in personality.

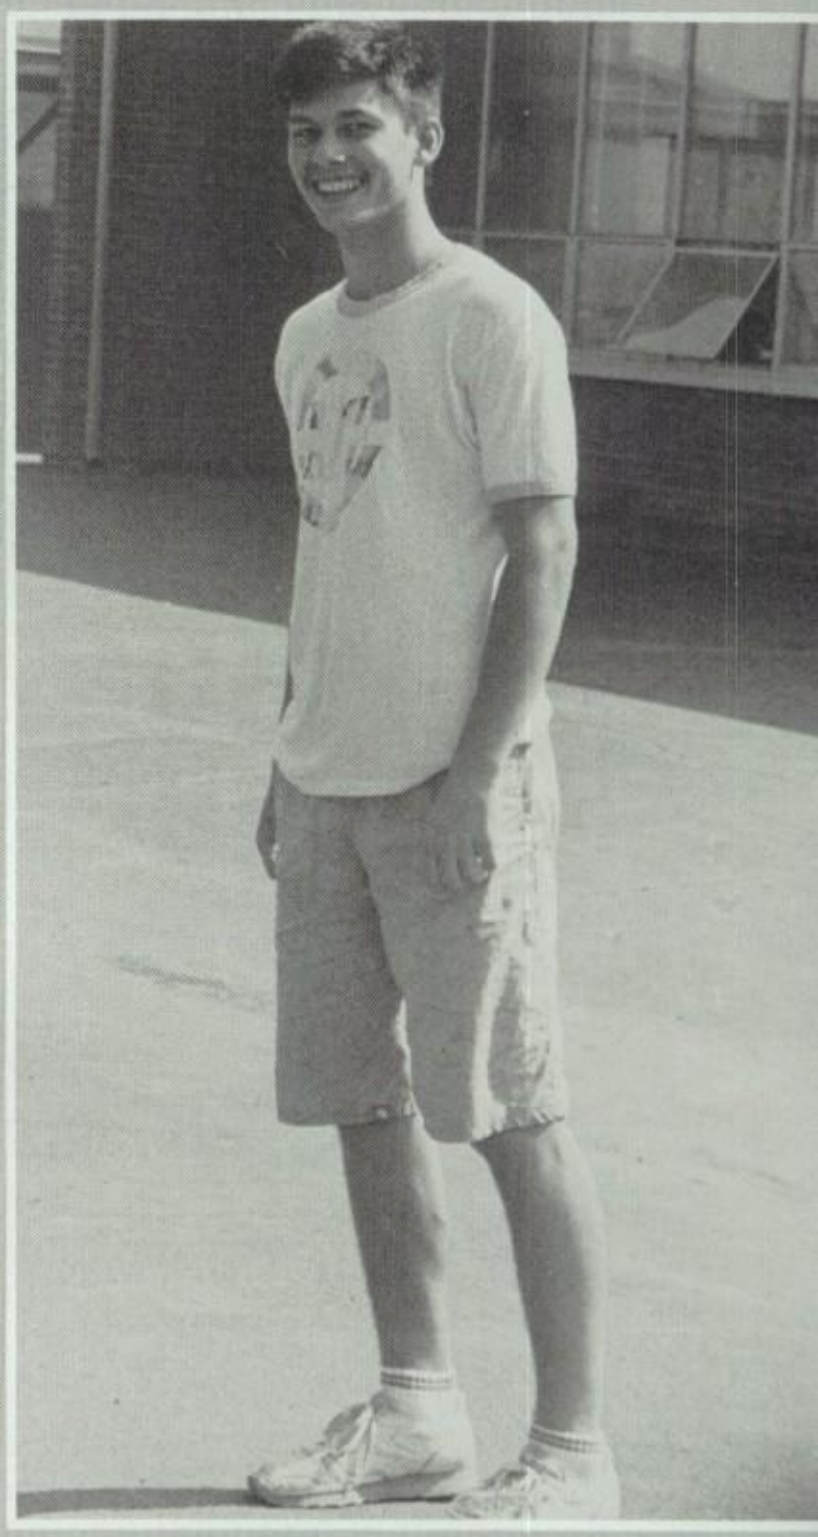
The most common change is the new bleached hair style hanging in front of the student's faces. Another change is the fashion style, the oversize type of clothes, particularly in sweaters. For most of us, at least as teenagers, fads have a lot to say about the way we look and the things we like.

Karen Brindley brings in the fad of spiked hair.



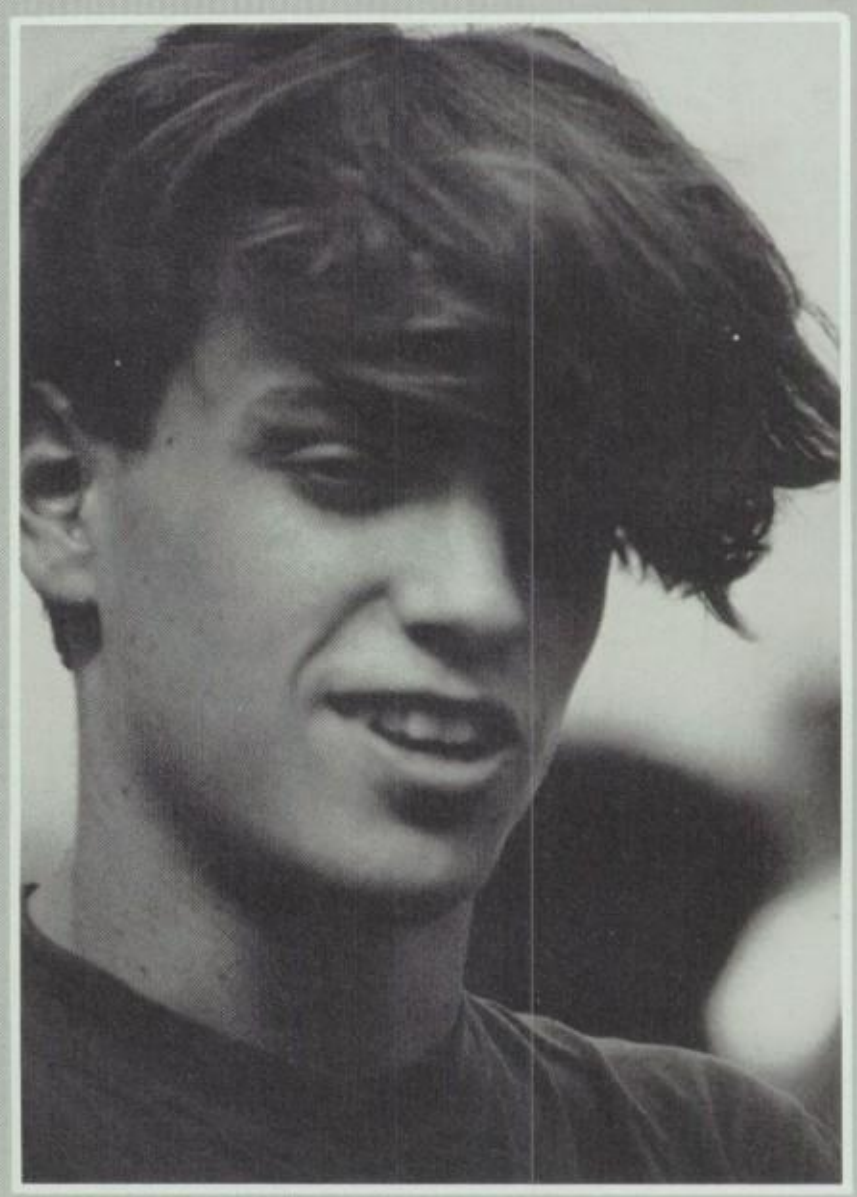


Kim Cale brings back the 60's with her mini skirt.

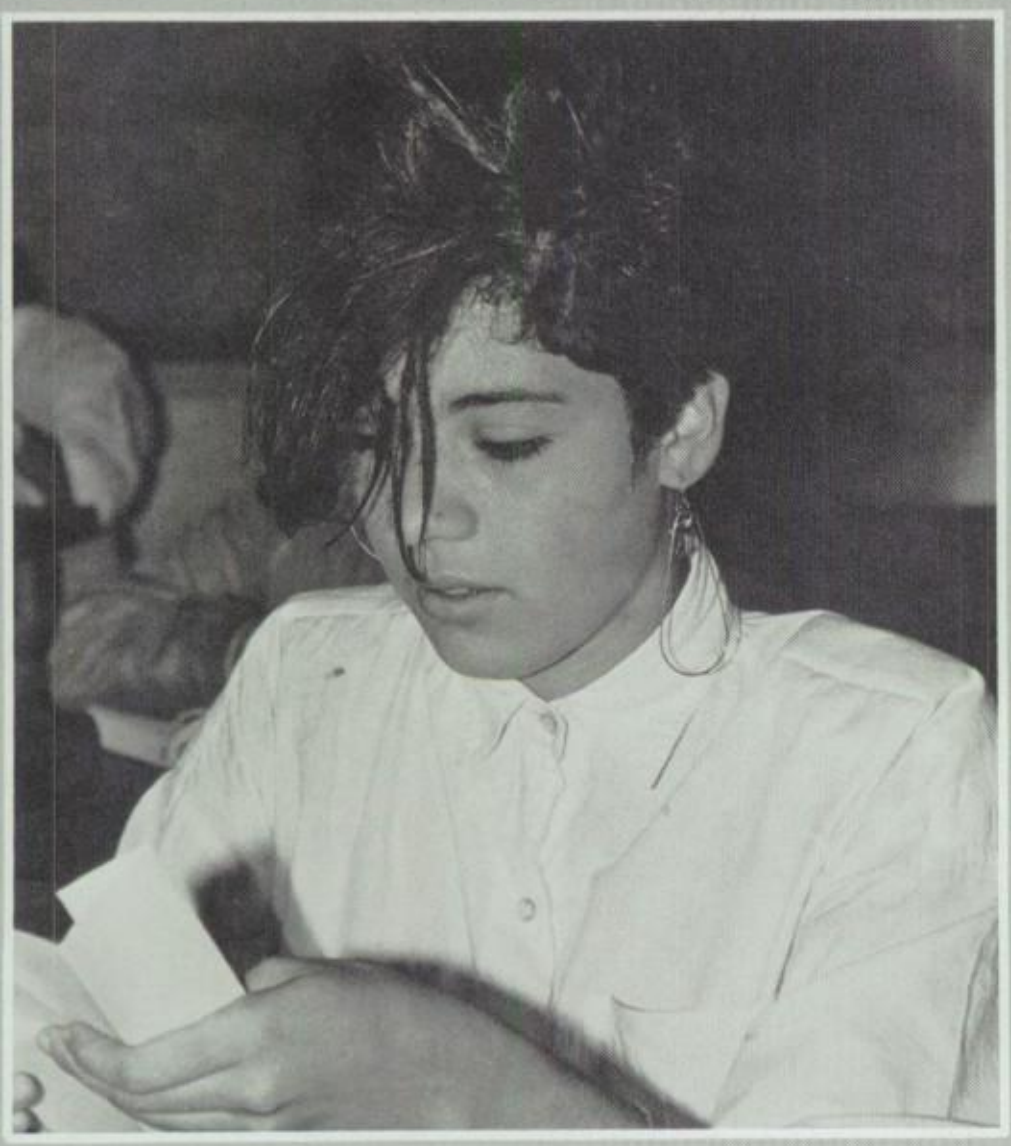


Ricky Afenir displays his summer-like pants.

Shelly Clark and Missy Wallace show off their Swatch watches.



Andy Pardue goes blind when he flips his hair back.



Patty Murillo can't read the note because her hair is in her eyes.

A.S.B. Officers

The four officers represent the student body. They constantly try to improve the school and try to make life more enjoyable by listening to student suggestions at council meetings and enacting the recommendations when possible.

Row 1: Brian Staab, Megan Riker, Orlando Bakerink, Row 2: Ronnie McCowan

Ronnie McCowan is the ASB president. He performs many functions, such as organizing the student store and residing over the meetings. Ronnie is aware of the students' needs and tries to fulfill them.

A.S.B. Leadership

Like the federal government which has a series of leadership roles, student government works the same way. Below the ASB officers is the ASB cabinet, which acts like the U.S. senate. Each student has a specific area of school life to lead. They become commissioners, assisting the officers in carrying out the functions related to their field.

Lori Romberg is active in the leadership class. She is in charge of organizing the school dances and attending the meetings. Lori also takes part in working in the school store.

Interviews

"What Do You Think About Closed Campus?"

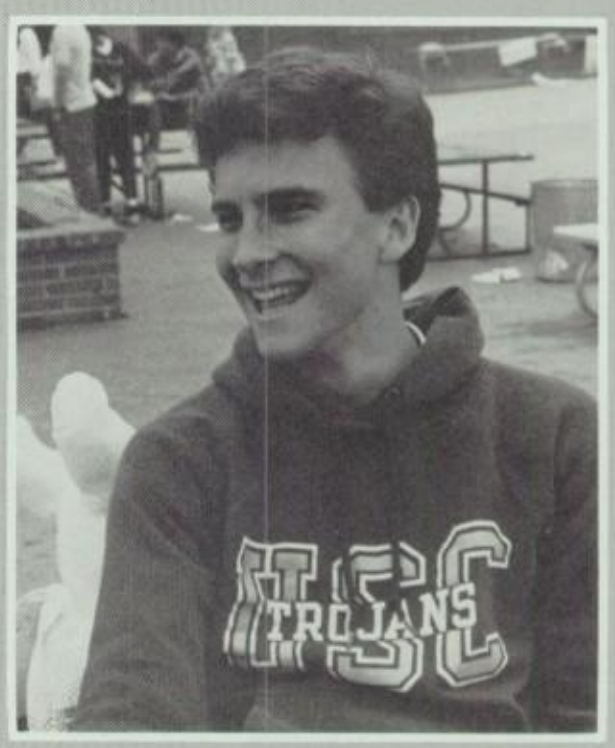
"I like my junior year best. The ASB has done a really good job trying to make the best of the situation. The cafeteria food is almost good now. I notice more people in the food lines, and the idea of bringing in food from restaurants is a really good idea. Most of the new teachers are doing a good job." - Alissa Beckett.

"My junior year is definitely the best so far. I hope my senior year is better. I think the activities the ASB has planned are good, but could be improved with more participation of students and more organization. The teaching staff has a better attitude this year, and I know they try harder to work with students personally." - Stacey Hembree.

"My senior year is the best even with all the things we've had taken away from us; I've gotten closer to my friends and have made new ones. The teachers are good, and I've learned a lot. The ASB has done a good job this year considering the circumstances. I hope next year's seniors don't have to go through what we did." - Susana Robles.

"Closed campus is causing more problems than it has solved. People had been fighting, therefore more security had to be hired, there's no good food, and you can't move around-there are too many people." - Teresa Embry.

"I think after they closed campus, fights began to start. Also, people don't have any decent food to eat. There's nothing to entertain us either. It's not fair." - Rosa Guerra.



"It's extremely restrictive; it's an unlawful restriction of our freedom of movement. We can't lose our rights when we walk through the school entrance. The security system is easily avoided and ineffective. I have never been asked to produce a hall pass when I've been out of class. The new attendance system is a joke. I resent being a number in a computer." - Eric Hayes.

"What Do You Think Of The Security System?"

Lunch

Although many students at first regarded our school district's new "closed campus" policy as a fate worse than death, we all survived, and even prospered under confinement. We looked forward to lunch as a time to gossip, to laugh, and yes, even to eat. Advanced Dance practiced, and clubs met while Rob Donelson blasted A.S.B. sponsored tunes on the greentop. A.S.B. also organized barbeques, intramurals, and product promotions (remember Brike?) for our lunchtime enjoyment. Students showed their spirit while making the best of our "Cougar cage".

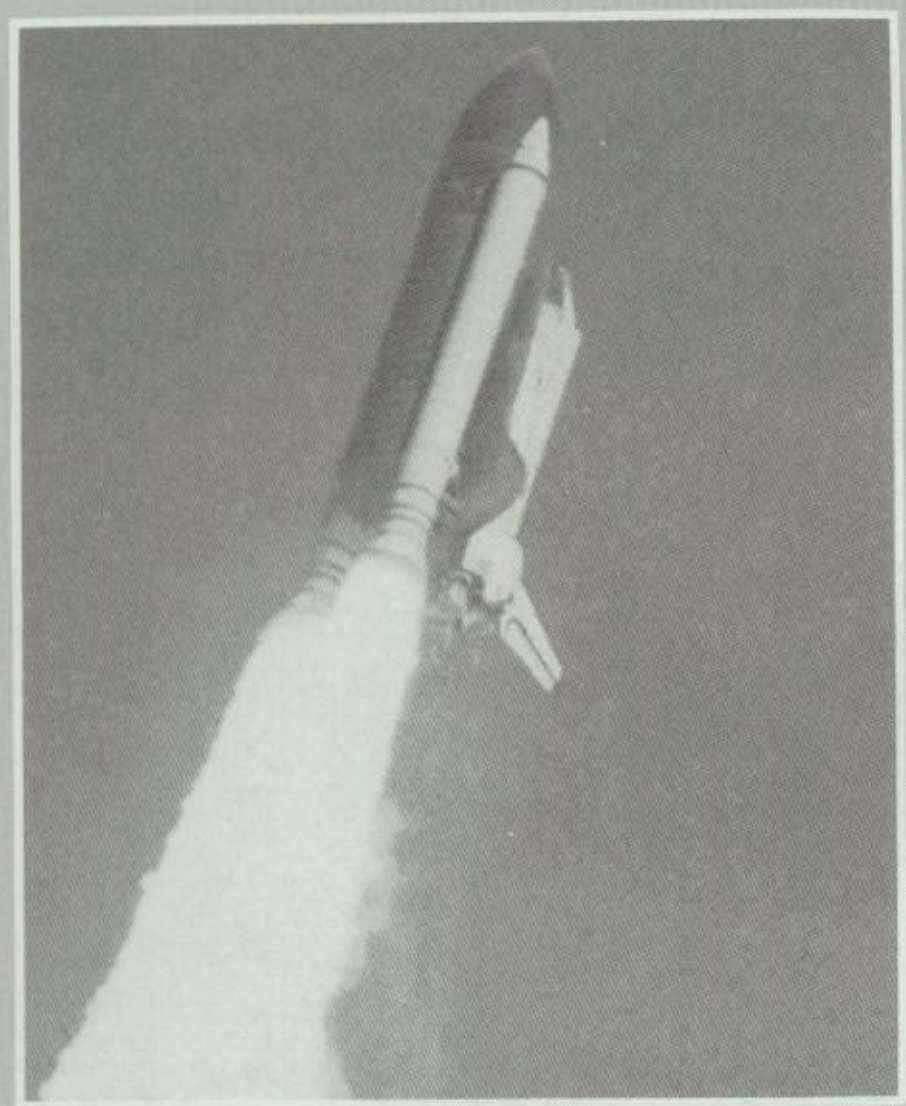
Current Events



The Space Shuttle program was in high gear in 85-86. All three shuttles - Columbia, Challenger, and Discovery - made flights. Some flights were launched within weeks of each other, with scientific and commercial tasks being accomplished.

U.S.A. for Africa was a project to raise money for the starving people in Ethiopia. Forty-fi musicians were present, including Lionel Richie, Huey Lewis, Michael Jackson, and Diana Ro Millions of dollars were raised.

1. The first flicker of trouble:
THE SHUTTLE TRAGEDY
'The Craft Has Exploded'
Nothing seemed amiss when the space shuttle Challenger thundered off the launching pad and thrust itself into a cold, clear Florida sky. In a grandstand below, jubilant third graders from Concord, N.H., hoisted a "Go Christa" banner in tribute to a classmate's mother, one of the seven crew members. In barely more than a minute, the spacecraft was 10 miles high, moving east at close to 2,000 miles per hour. But then—at "Maximum Q," the moment of greatest stress—Challenger was suddenly engulfed in a roaring orange cloud. Its two booster rockets flew off madly on their own, and bits of debris began to flicker in the sunlight, falling toward earth through tendrils of steam. "Oh, God," said a teacher in the crowd, "don't let happen what I think just happened." In Houston, the computer screens at mission control abruptly froze, each line of data ending in an "S" for "static," indicating that no more information was coming in. "Flight controllers here looking very carefully at the situation," announced public-affairs officer Stephen Nesbitt, momentarily oblivious to the disaster that already had unfolded on television screens across the country. Then Nesbitt's voice crackled again over the loudspeakers at Cape Canaveral: "Obviously a major malfunction." A NASA official rushed to the side of Ed and Grace Corrigan, the parents of teacher-astronaut Christa McAuliffe. "The craft has exploded," he said. Grace Corrigan repeated the words numbly: "The craft has exploded." Nearby, the children of pilot Michael Smith began to scream. "Daddy!" one of them wailed. "I want you, Daddy. You always promised nothing would happen."

Tragedy struck the space program on Tuesday, January 28, 1986. Just 74 seconds into the flight the space shuttle Challenger exploded, bringing an end to the heroic crew of seven men and women. On board was the first civilian, Christa McAuliffe, a high school teacher from Concord, New Hampshire. Also on board were flight commander Francis Scobee, pilot Michael Smith, aerospace engineer Ellison Onizuka, physicist Ronald McNair, and electrical engineers Gregory Jarvis, and Judith Resnik.

In September, 1985, two earthquakes shook Mexico City. Approximately 20,000 people were killed. People from many other countries came to help. The United States gave $20 million to aid Mexico City in their disaster.

The California State Lottery started on October 3, 1985. Thirty million tickets are sold weekly. It is in the top 30 of the most profitable businesses in the country. California schools should reap many benefits from the lottery.

Pete Rose stroked his way into the baseball record books on September 11, 1985. His 4192nd hit broke baseball's career record, previously held by Ty Cobb. Padre pitcher Eric Show served up the historic pitch.

Cheerleaders

This year, the cheerleaders had a new advisor, Bob Johnson. Mr. Johnson, aided by Cheryl Garcia, helped the cheerleaders with their cheers. The Junior Varsity were great and as energetic as the Varsity; they practiced faithfully after school. The Varsity participated in a special cheerleading competition and won first place locally and received $500.00. They did a great job firing up the crowds at the football and basketball games. They also showed their school spirit by cheering at many of the other boys and girls team sports.

Spirit Week

This year, more students took part in Spirit Week than in past years. The students really showed their spirit for the school by dressing up as tourists and nerds on Monday, with fifties-day on Tuesday, in togas on Wednesday, in Halloween costumes on Thursday, and on Friday, in orange and black. Friday was recorded as the orangest day in Cougar history.

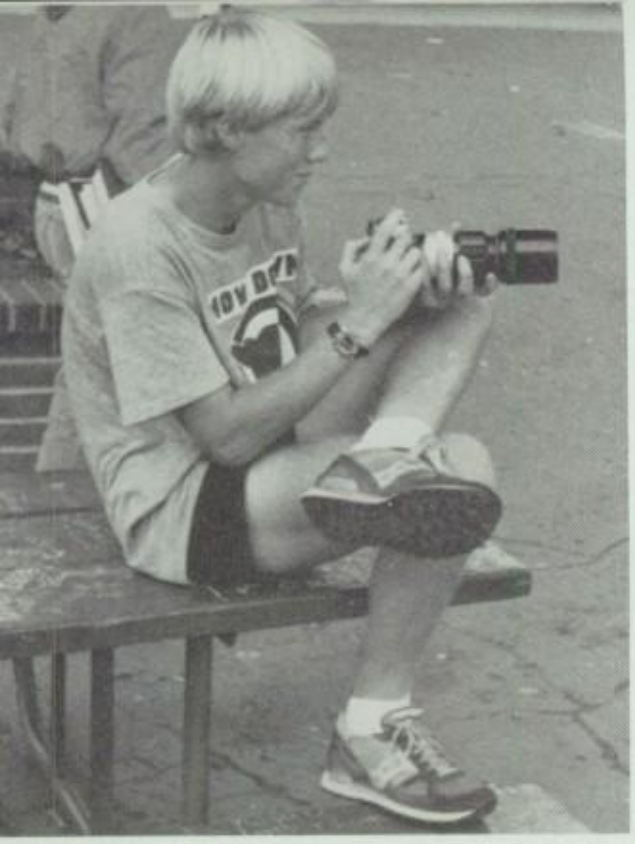
SENIORS



Scott Strosnider was chosen as one senior in a crowd. After talking to Scott we find an intelligent individual with a wild sense of humor. For example, girls in tight pants and low neck sweaters are what Scott enjoys most about E.H.S. Scott jests that his favorite lunchtime activities are drinking, gambling, and a little one on one. When asked "who has been your favorite teacher?" he replied, "I think the person I've learned the most from was Mr. Dodin." Wearing florescent underwear is one quality that makes Scott stand out wherever he goes. Scott is often seen with his long time friend Dan Cripe. Scott's plans for the future are attending Palomar College for a year, then off to a bigger school.

Congratulations Toby! We knew you could do it! We want you to know that we love you and wish you only the best in whatever you decide to do. P.S. Now you can stay out past 10:00!!!
Love ya,
Mom and Dad

The '86 junior class is an exceptional class with some exceptional students. One such student is Mark Culbert. Mark's enthusiasm and incredibly magnetic personality sets himself above the rest. Mark is not only the announcer at J.V. Football games but is also a drama student and an active member of S.A.F-.W.A.Y.(Students Against Drunk Driving).

Out of all those activities drama is his favorite. Mark has appeared in four plays - A Christmas Carol, The Patient, That's Rich, And Visitor From Forest Hills. Mark has won several drama awards, highlighted with the Best Actor award for his part as Bob Cratchit in "A Christmas Carol". "Drama gives me the great experience I need to practice for my career goal of becoming an actor. An added bonus is the fact that Mr. Johnson is a great drama teacher."

Outside of school Mark finds time to work at Foster's Freeze and often plays basketball with his best friend Robbie Johnson.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomore Stephani Henson cites the people and the fabulous drama department as the things she likes most about EHS. When asked what makes Stephani stand out in a crowd, her best friend, Monique Jefferies says, "It's her vivacious personality." Stephani says she is proud of the sophomore class for their ambition - they have already begun to raise money for next year's prom through the sale of candy bars.

Stephani's activities at EHS include being a mat-maid and an actress in "Overtones", one of this year's student directed one act plays. Stephani is also a Drama II student.

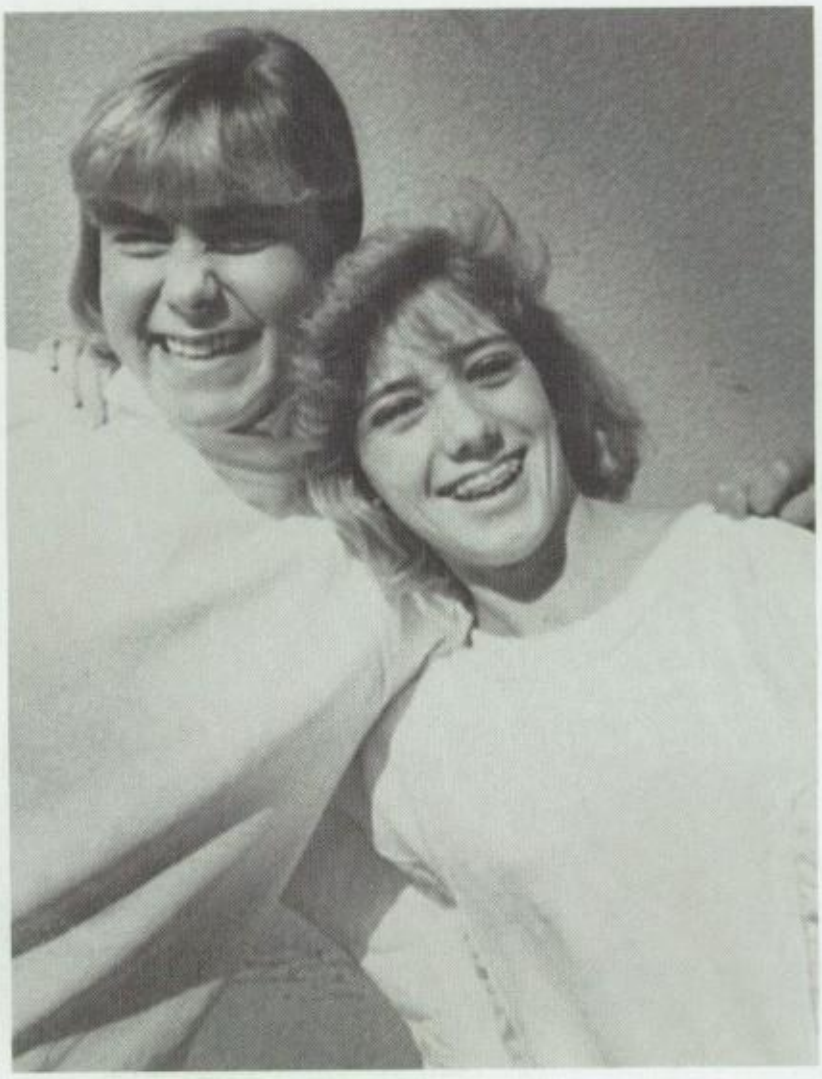
Freshman

GOTCHA!

Shannon Lauxman and Christie Adkins are "Twenchable".

The Escondido Flag Corps salute the new freshmen.



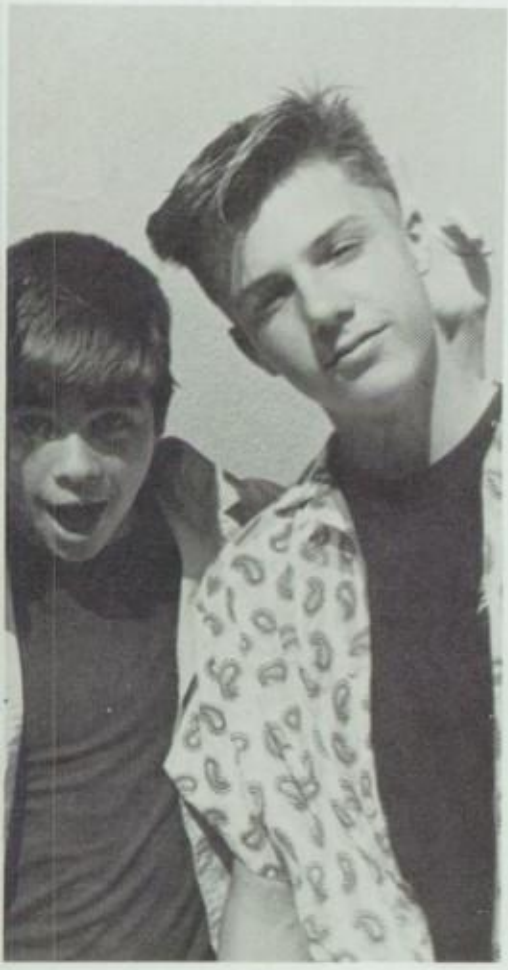
Melissa Lynds and Jennifer Mallinger cause "Double Trouble."

Dave Sherwood, Johnny Lyndon, and Ron Tilton hear no evil, see no evil, and speak no evil.

Munch a bunch, munch a bunch, munch a bunch of freshmen, for lunch!!! Crunch, crunch!!

Denise Espudo and Ita Salacup smirk for the camera on Gotcha Day.

Tami Walter, Geraldine Hannigan, Tiffany Jarrell, Cheri Lodico, and Janiece Kern stand in line to catch a glimpse of some seniors.



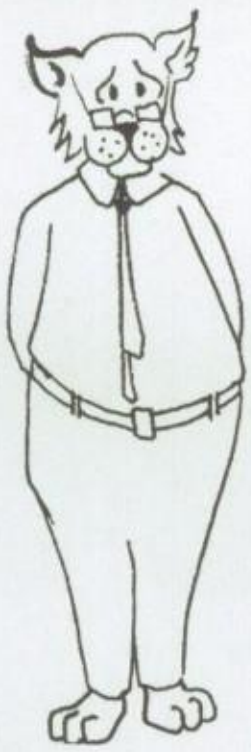
John McAnally, Jeremy Myers, and Israel Jimenez are stunned when they realize they are in Bear Country.

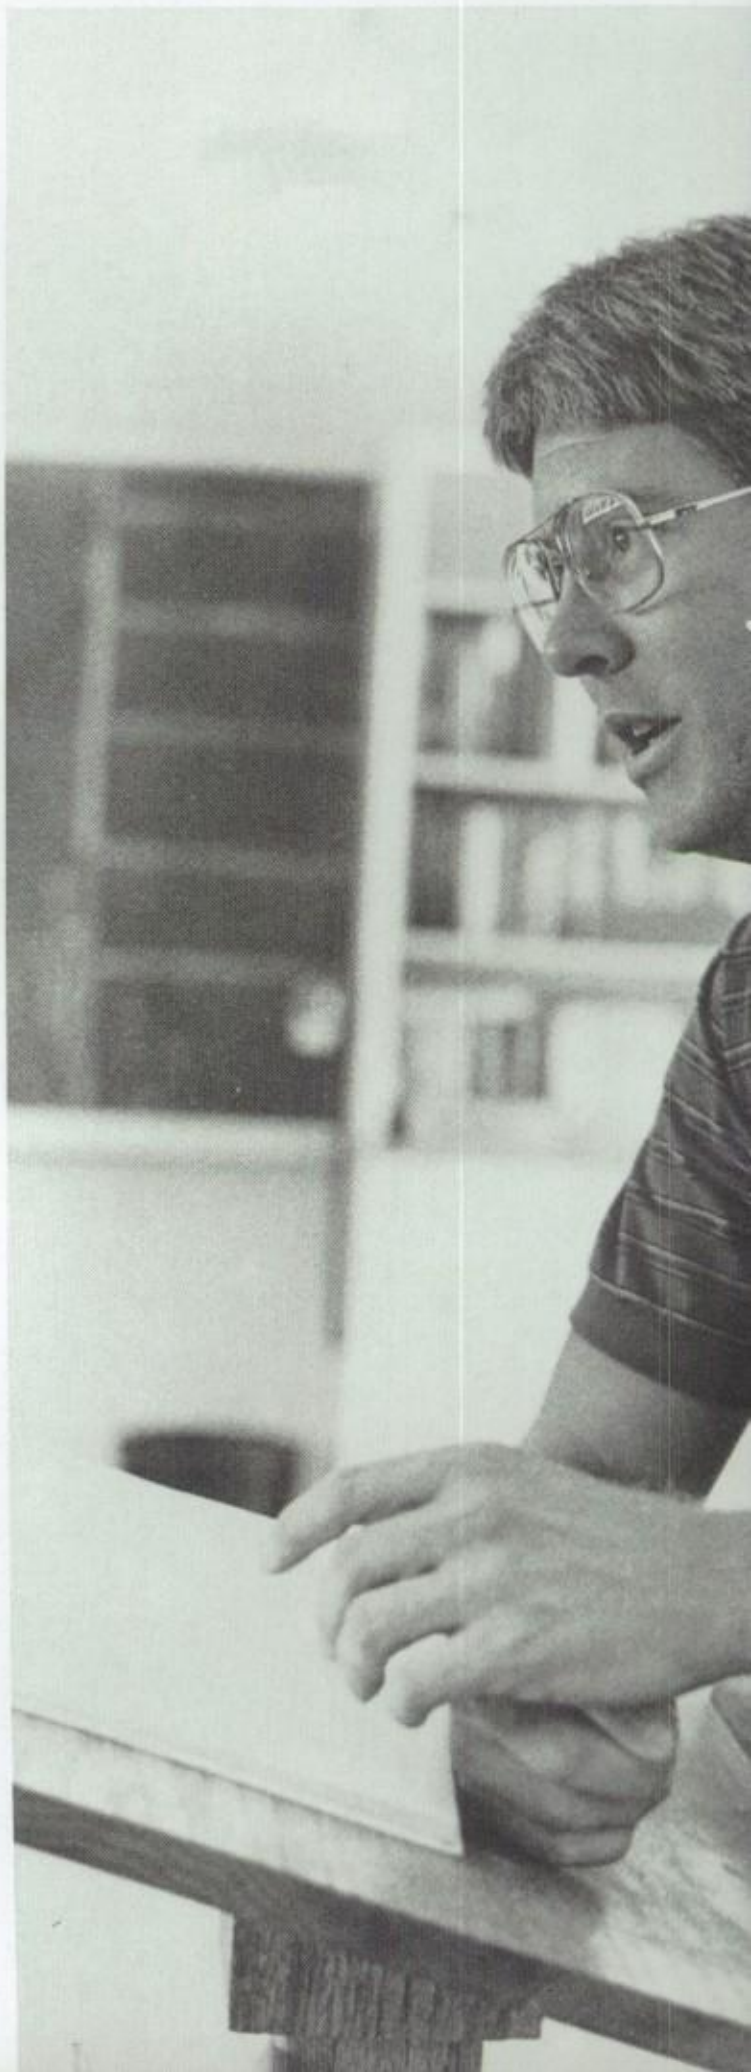
Tourists from Arkansas look a lot like freshmen.

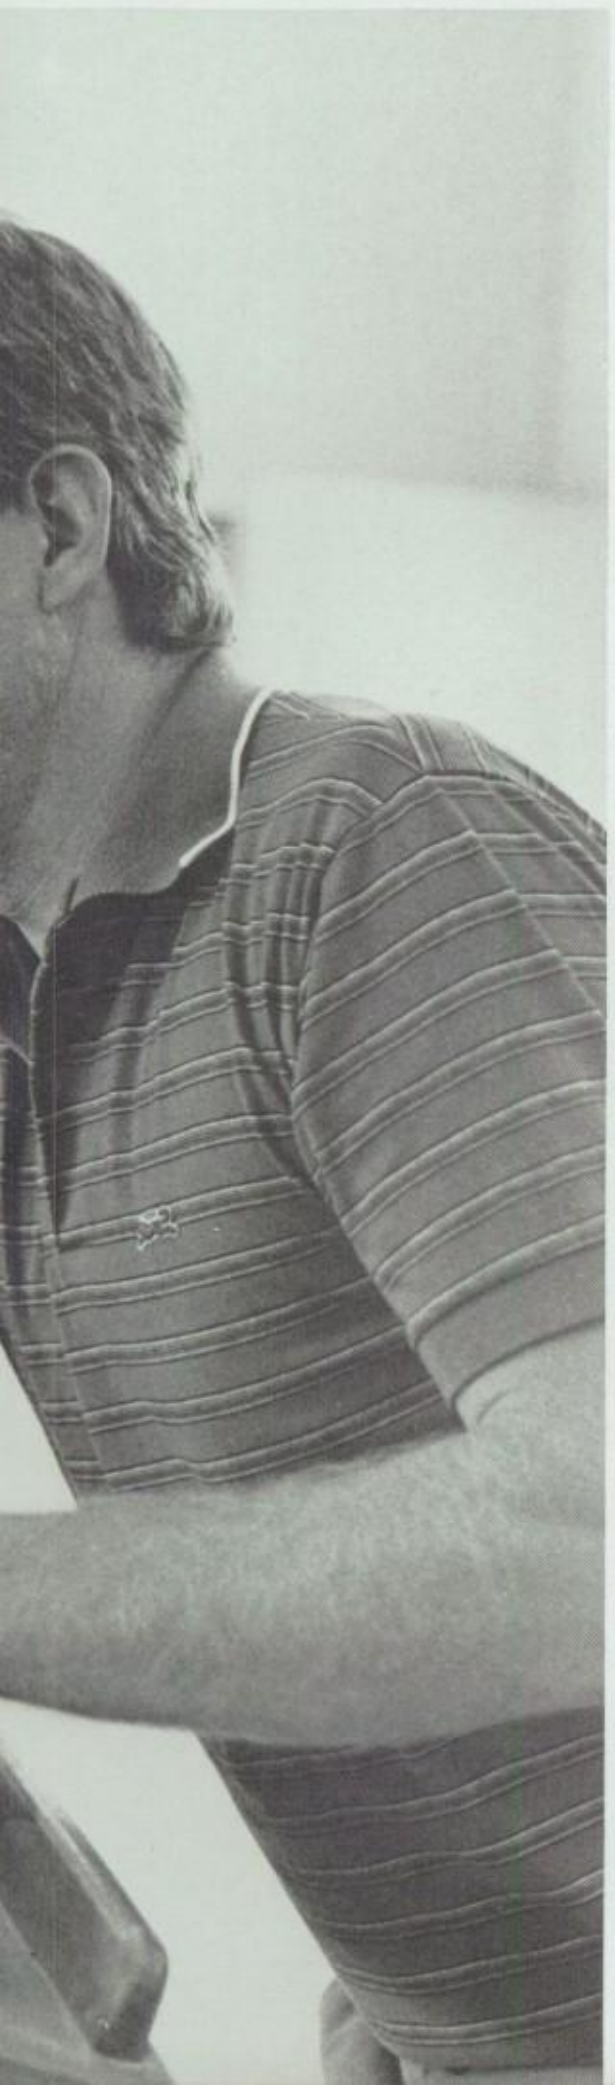
Jeff Partridge, Dave Totten, and Mike Shaw say, "This is what E.H.S. did to us!"

Jenny Folds and her friends throw a birthday party at lunch.

FACULTY







Looking at the staff at EHS, we see many who are one in a crowd. Theron Preston certainly is one such teacher.

"I enjoy the subject matter I attempt to inculcate into the seniors' cranial cavity," says Mr. Preston with a straight face. He began teaching EHS in 1960. He also teaches part time at Palomar College. When the Academic league was formed in 1983, Mr. Preston became our coach. The team has done an outstanding job each year.

"It is very satisfying to be able to work with kids who have a solid commitment to academics," states Mr. Preston. When asked what his most embarrassing moment was he responds, "Losing to Orange Glen in NCAL."

"There are some very nice people at EHS, and it's a real pleasure associating with them. Teachers at E.H.S. had the unique experience of working with California's outstanding pedagogy, the late John Georges."

Faculty

This year, the faculty section decided to do something a little different with the categorization of our teachers. Instead of the traditional groupings by subject or by last names, we have placed the teachers in groups according to their astrological signs. Some call it unorthodox, some call it superstitious - we call it fun. Although we realize these teachers are all unique and may have nothing except their "sign" in common, we may make some interesting observations and get a few laughs as we compare our teachers born under the same astrological sign.

Custodial and Maintenance Crew Keeps Plant Fit

Many students don't realize the work that needs to be done after the final bell rings. Custodians must clean up the mess all the students and teachers make after a days instruction. Repairs and upkeep are also accomplished during this period. Gardening, watering, and setting up for special events are also part of their jobs. We take it for granted every morning when we walk on to a clean, well groomed, ready to use facility. We should take a second to appreciate the hard work these people do for us daily.

Ernie Escobedo, Clarence James, Al Alto, Dora Rubidoux, Sharon Owens, Richard Hatcher, Norberto Castaneda

Richard Hatcher is a proud member of the EHS custodial and maintenance staff. It is that pride that makes his job important to him and therefore he sometimes does more than asked. He sees things that need improvement and gets the job done. When you come on campus and see something cleaned up or improved, it might have been Richard that took care of it.

Cafeteria Improves Services

Closed Campus this year caused an increased demand on food services. Cafeteria boss, Bob Nolton, along with recommendations from other staff, improved the quality and selection to the hundreds of hungry students and faculty. Besides upgrading the variety and taste of the regular cafeteria food, two other major improvements that took place were the salad bar and bringing in food from outside vendors such as Toco Bell and Godfather's Pizza.

When Monica Michals steps to the plate you never here the umpire call, "Strike three". Monica has been playing softball, soccer, and tennis for many years and is highly skilled in all three sports. Monica's favorite sport is softball, which she has played the longest. "I liked playing softball at school when I was younger and I wanted more competition." Her accomplishments for softball include all league honorable mention her sophomore year and 2nd team all league her junior year. Other distinguished awards include Most Improved in freshmen tennis and 2nd team all league for soccer her junior year.

Outside of participating in sports Monica has been a cheerleader her 10th and 12th grade years. Monica also has participated in dance her Senior year.

Volleyball

Volleyball Clinches Playoff Spot

For the fourth year in a row, the Cougar volleyball team made it to C.I.F. Their overall record of 9-3 and 2nd place in league play assured them a playoff spot. Led by Coach Dale Cornelius and the four seniors - Shelly Clark, Carrie Danover, Vicki Pyle and Megan Yancey- the volleyball team had an overall profitable season.

Water Polo

Water Polo Shows Great Improvement

Water polo is a sport that many people say is "easy" and a sport for "wimps". Well, the water polo team knows otherwise. Dedication, hard work, and great attitude helped the young team through a tough season. The varsity, with a record of 4-16, braced the rough waters against bigger and more experienced teams to place 7th in league play. The JV had a slightly better record, placing 6th in league with a 6-10 record. The water polo team deserves a big congratulations for their hard work and dedication to the sport.

Cross Country

Cross Country Wins League

Running over countryside, across fields, and through woods, the cross country team breezed into a new season. A sport only for the tough, cross country has done very well at EHS under the excellent leadership of Coach Brady Clay. With the help of Bob Segel and Tom Steffen, two EHS graduates, the boy's cross country team placed first in league, and the girls' team placed second. Led by Megan Riker and Jason Heideman, the team has built quite a reputation in San Diego as being strong and competitive. Although some will graduate, Escondido will continue to be a force in the league for years to come.

Tennis

Tennis Team Plays Tough

A young and inexperienced team, headed by new coach Leslie Monteforte, started out the season with some disappointing league losses. The team bounced back, however, and proved that they can be a very competitive team under pressure. Senior Kim Revilla and junior Lynnette McCallion led the team in its endeavors and helped to place them 5th in league.

Football

Varsity Gets Close, But No Cigar

The Cougar Varsity football team had a good season, but once again their chance to be in the playoffs was out of their grasp. A disappointing loss to San Pasqual dashed all hopes of C.I.F. The Cougars finished with a record of 4-5-1, good enough for fourth place in league. The varsity's training extended back to February 1985, when all the players took a "zero period" PE class, requiring them to get up before the sun to lift weights and do Lombardi's together. Training also continued through the summer to prepare for the "85 season, the players only taking a short break before the start of school. "At times we all wondered if this hard work was worthwhile," said one player, "but the discipline and mental toughness we learned payed off, not only on the field, but in school as well." The Cougars had a decidedly tough season, but the players proved that EHS can be proud of a team that never got down in the face of defeat, or gave up on their goals. Good job, Cougars!

J.V. Has A Successful Season

The E.H.S. J.V. football team came from behind to defeat their crosstown rivals, the San Pasqual Eagles, and ended what turned out to be a very exciting season. The team, led by Mike Scales and Tim Bone, finished the season with four wins and six losses.

Starting out with three straight wins, the frosh football team had a valuable learning experience which helped them prepare for their future in Cougar football. In the highlight of their season, the Cougars, led by Josh Miller, Charlie Ellison, and Mark Seltzer, pulled together to defeat the O.G. Patriots.

Wrestling

Wrestlers Struggle To Stay On Top

This year's wrestling team faced many tough battles, El Camino being the toughest. EHS has long been respected for it's wrestling program. Led by junior Jose Martinez, this years team relied on the strength of the heavier wrestlers. Both the varsity and JV put out their best effort. The young wrestling team, in essentially a re-building stage, had many promising prospects gaining valuable experience for next year.

Boys Soccer

Soccer Makes Goals

This year's boys soccer team was not abundant in wins, but was abundant in spirit and good sportsmanship. Although the boys soccer team has not been a force in the Avocado League for quite a few years, that has never let down the players or coach. "We have alot of fun at practice and games, probably because winning is not the objective and playing well is," said one player.

Girls Soccer

Referees Ruin Return to C.I.F.

"We're a really good team, but you could blame almost every one of our losses on a bad call," said one varsity player. This seemed to be true of the girl's soccer team, but the wins and the losses seemed to even out. Soccer is a difficult sport to play and the E.H.S. team proved that good sportsmanship can be as valuable as good playing skills. Coach Jack Saffell said "We want to have fun - winning isn't everything to us."

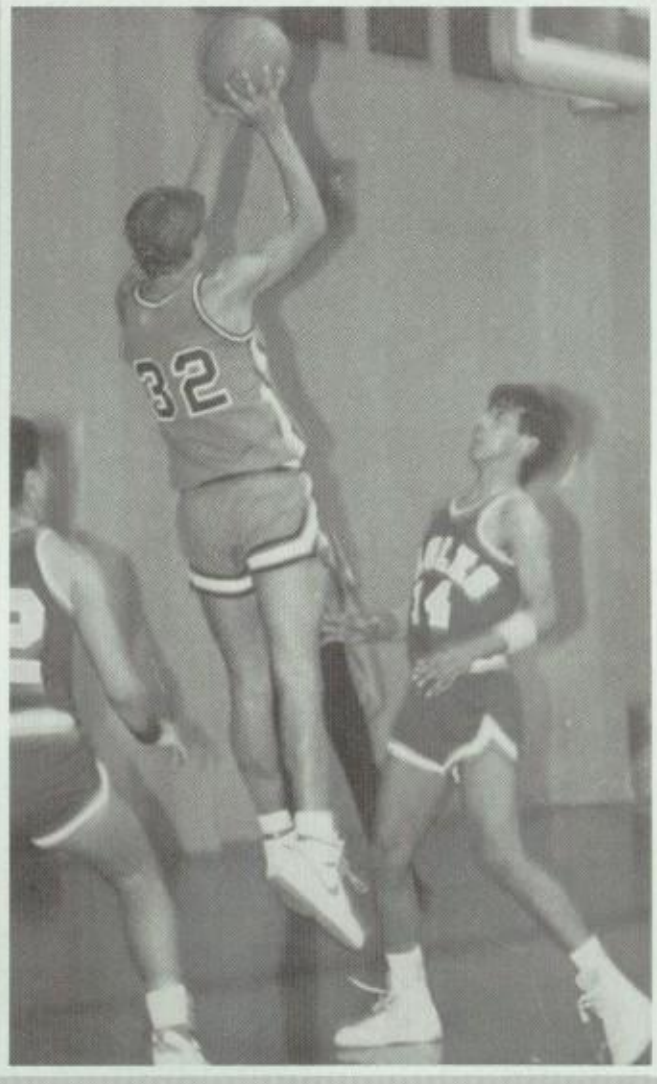
The Orange (and Black) Have Juicy Season

"I think this year the big battle will be for 2nd place," said varsity coach Mike Williams. "The team was off to a good start - we're trying for a 6-6 finish." The E.H.S. varsity was a well rounded team this year, containing power in all the players instead of just one. "We're a little more evenly spread out this year. The people on the bench came off and gave us a real boost when we needed it."



Paul Baldwin sinks one in for two points.

Andy Rozenko warms up before the big game.

Aaron Cherrington tries to scare away his opponents.

When Lance Gabbard was asked what inspired him to play basketball, he said, "When I was growing up on the streets of New York, I used to watch the fellas play hoops on the playground, and I knew from then on I wanted to be just like them. Seriously, more than anything, I have enjoyed the friendships I have gained while playing basketball."

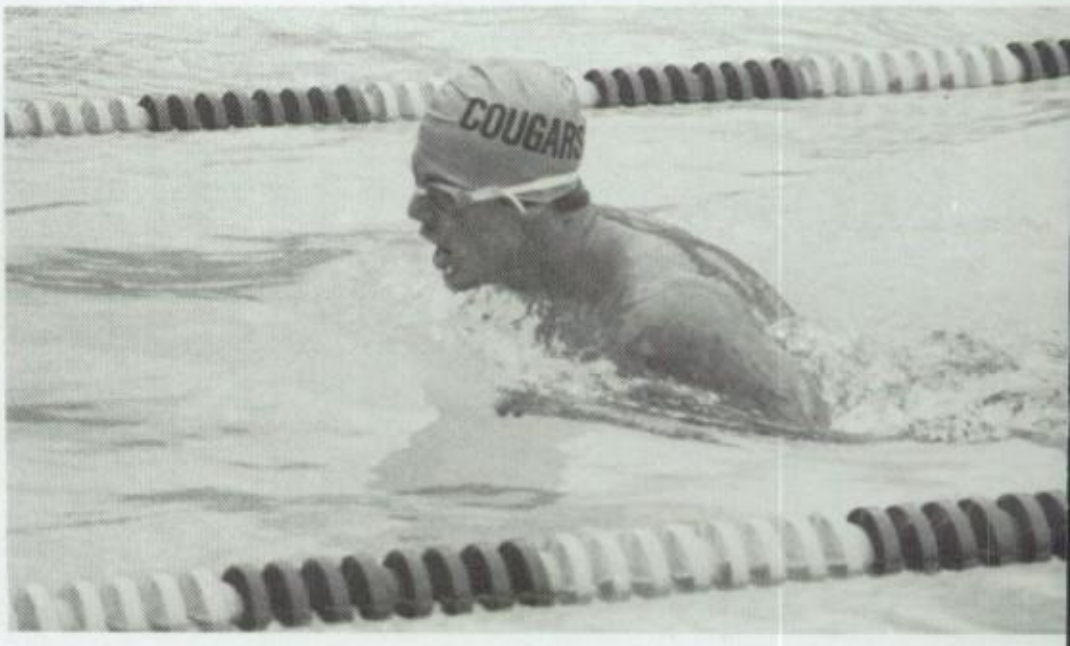
Brenda Rios does water ballet instead of swimming the backstroke.



▲ Scott Magness propels himself through the water.
▲▲ Dan Cripe and Scott Strosnider show their enthusiasm for their team.

Chris Busse realizes that he left his speedo on the block.

Melissa Lynds and Lisa Thompson are two outstanding freshmen swimmers. Both have competed in club swimming before coming to EHS. "High school swimming is more fun and relaxed," said Lisa. "Everyone gets wild," added Melissa, "and they make me laugh when I'm swimming."

Annie Yancey keeps miles ahead of the competition.

Shelly Clark takes off her "bald man" disguise.

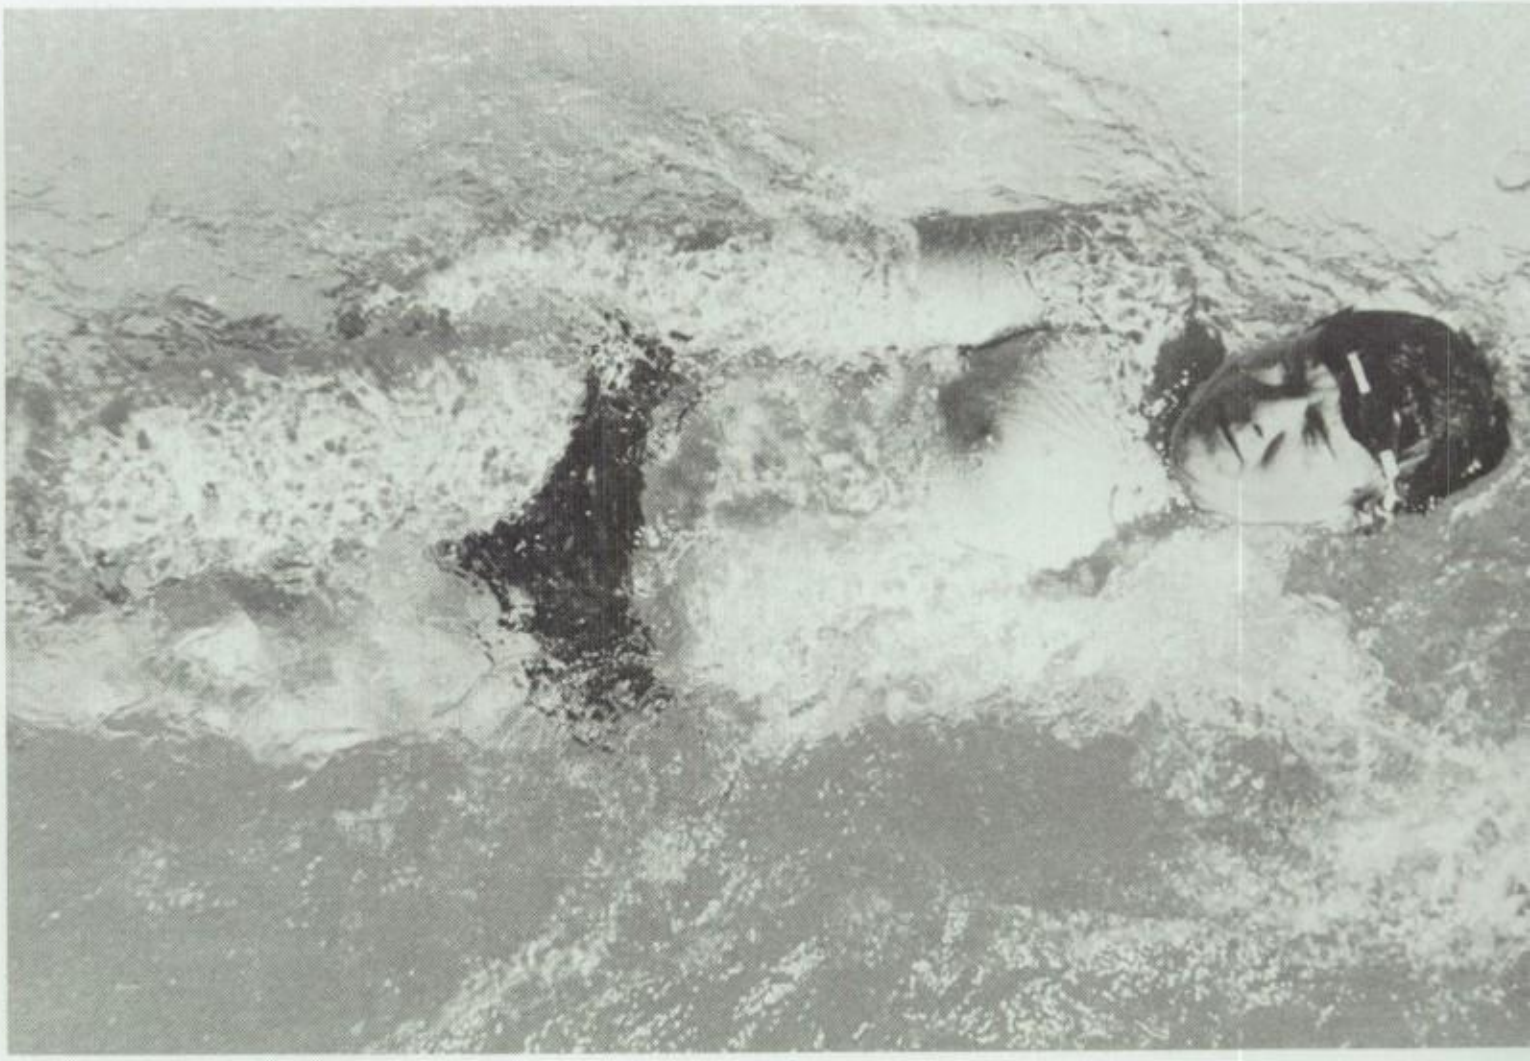
Swimmers Take Title

For the first time in EHS's history, the swim team had the chance to capture the Avocado League title in both the girls and boys division. The girls entered the 1986 season as defending champs, while the boys will be looking for their first. Leading the way for the girls were the relay team of Lisa Thompson, Melissa Lynds, Annie Yancey, and Megan Yancey; and for the boys it was Eric Pili, Scott Magness, and Dan Cripe. Congratulations to the swimmers for their fine performances this year.

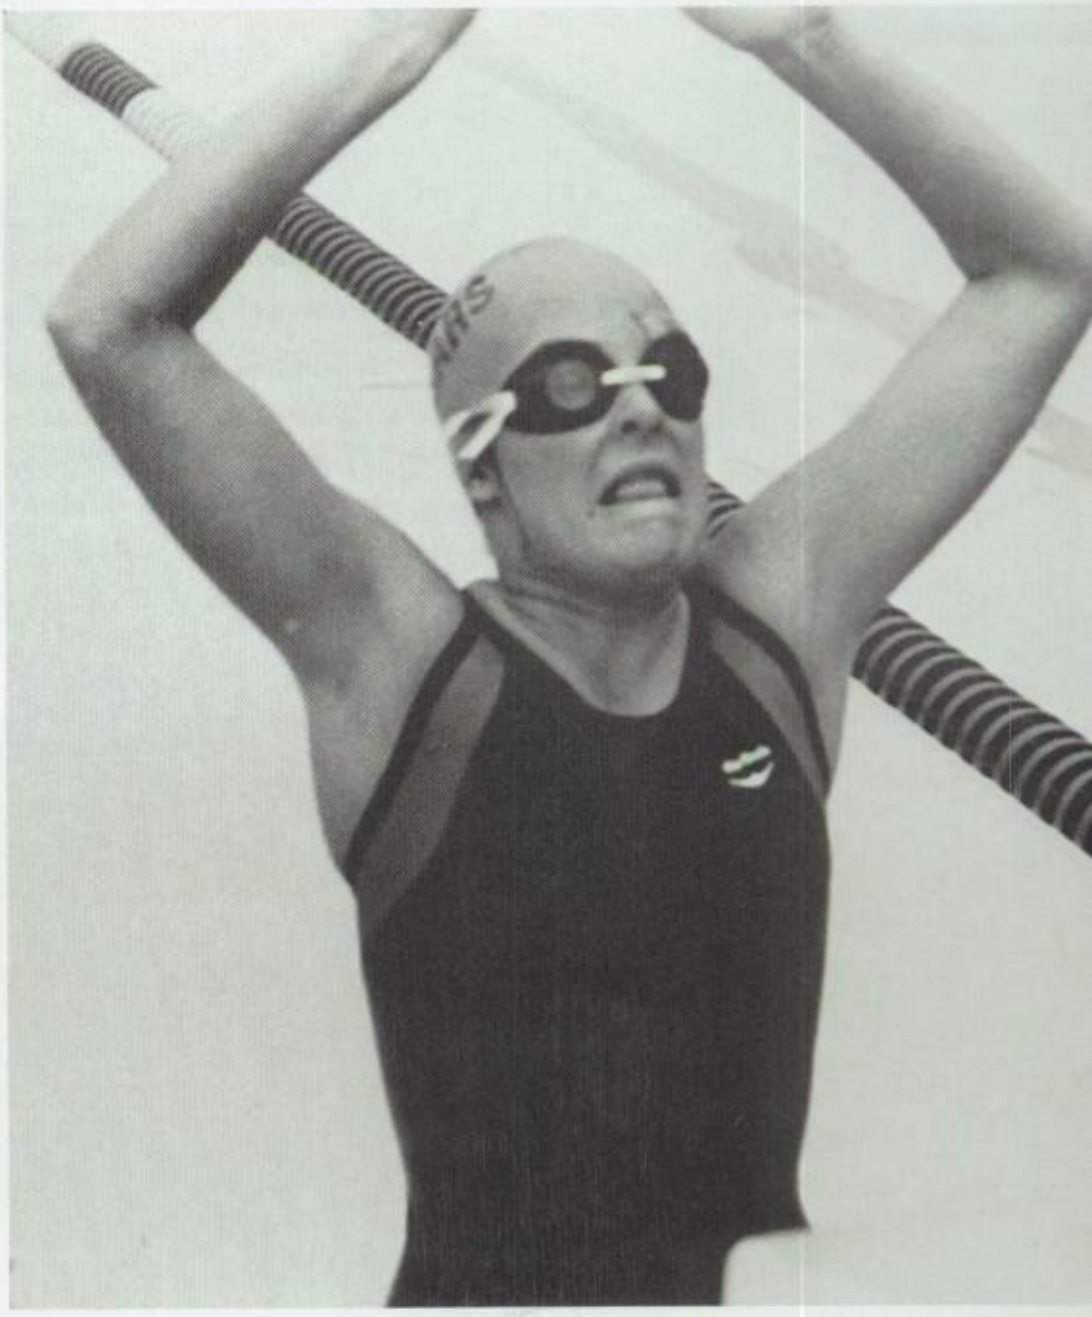
JV Shows Improvement

Under the guidance of Coaches Don Portis and Todd Boyer the young JV team has met great expectations. Both the boys and girls teams should win the JV league title with their skill, talent and sheer numbers. The stroke work and endurance learned at this stage will help the Cougars win varsity league crowns for many years to come.

Ron Perkins: gurgle, spit, choke, gag, glug, glug, glug...



Erica Perkins gets a needed gasp of air while doing the butterfly.



Andrea Dresselhaus gives it every ounce of energy she has and launches herself at the start the 100 yard backstroke.

Kathy Milks takes a breath before going under.

Chris McGaugh makes a strong finish.

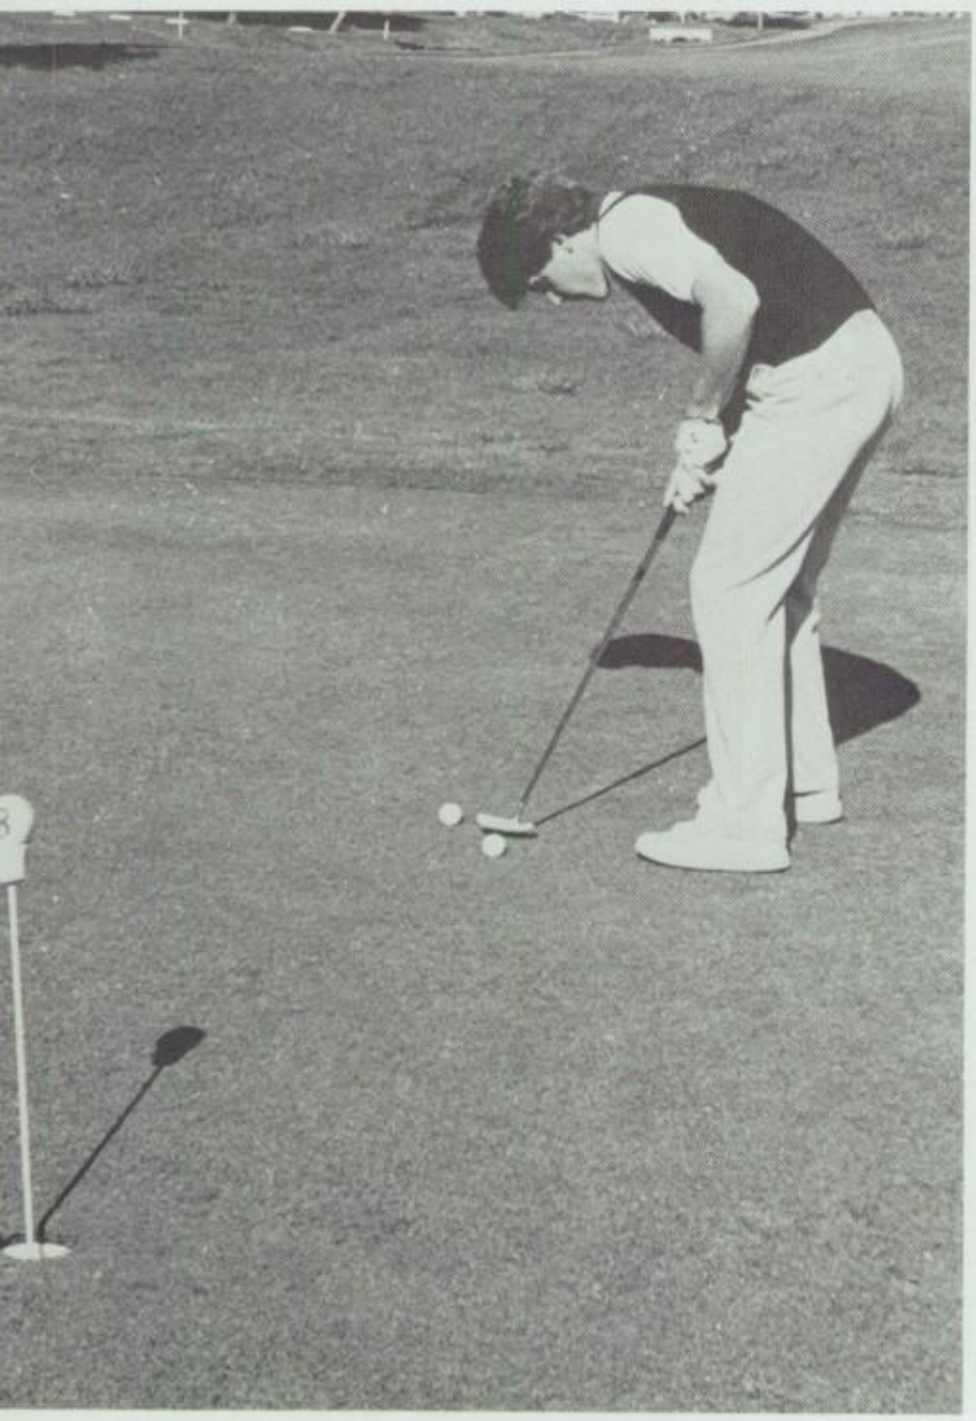
Golf Drives Into League Play

Escondido High's 1986 golf team was very strong and very competitive. With four seniors who returned this year, the golf team successfully finished in the top three in the Avocado League. Leading the way were Jeff Bender and John Lovett, who were members one and two on the team, respectively. Showing strong promise for future years were Curt Vurpillat, and Joe Schroeder. Golf is now gaining more respect at EHS thanks to the outstanding players who have done so well.

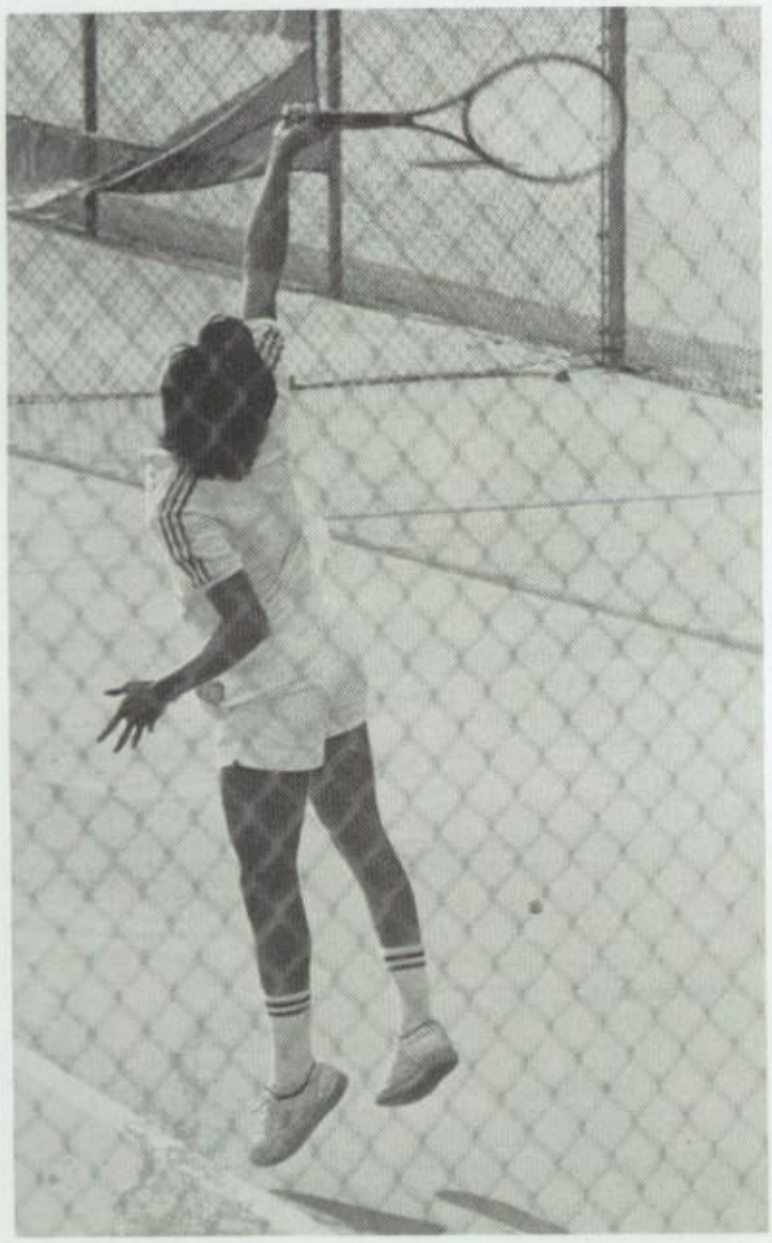


Scott Paxton practices for the big game at Golfland next weekend.

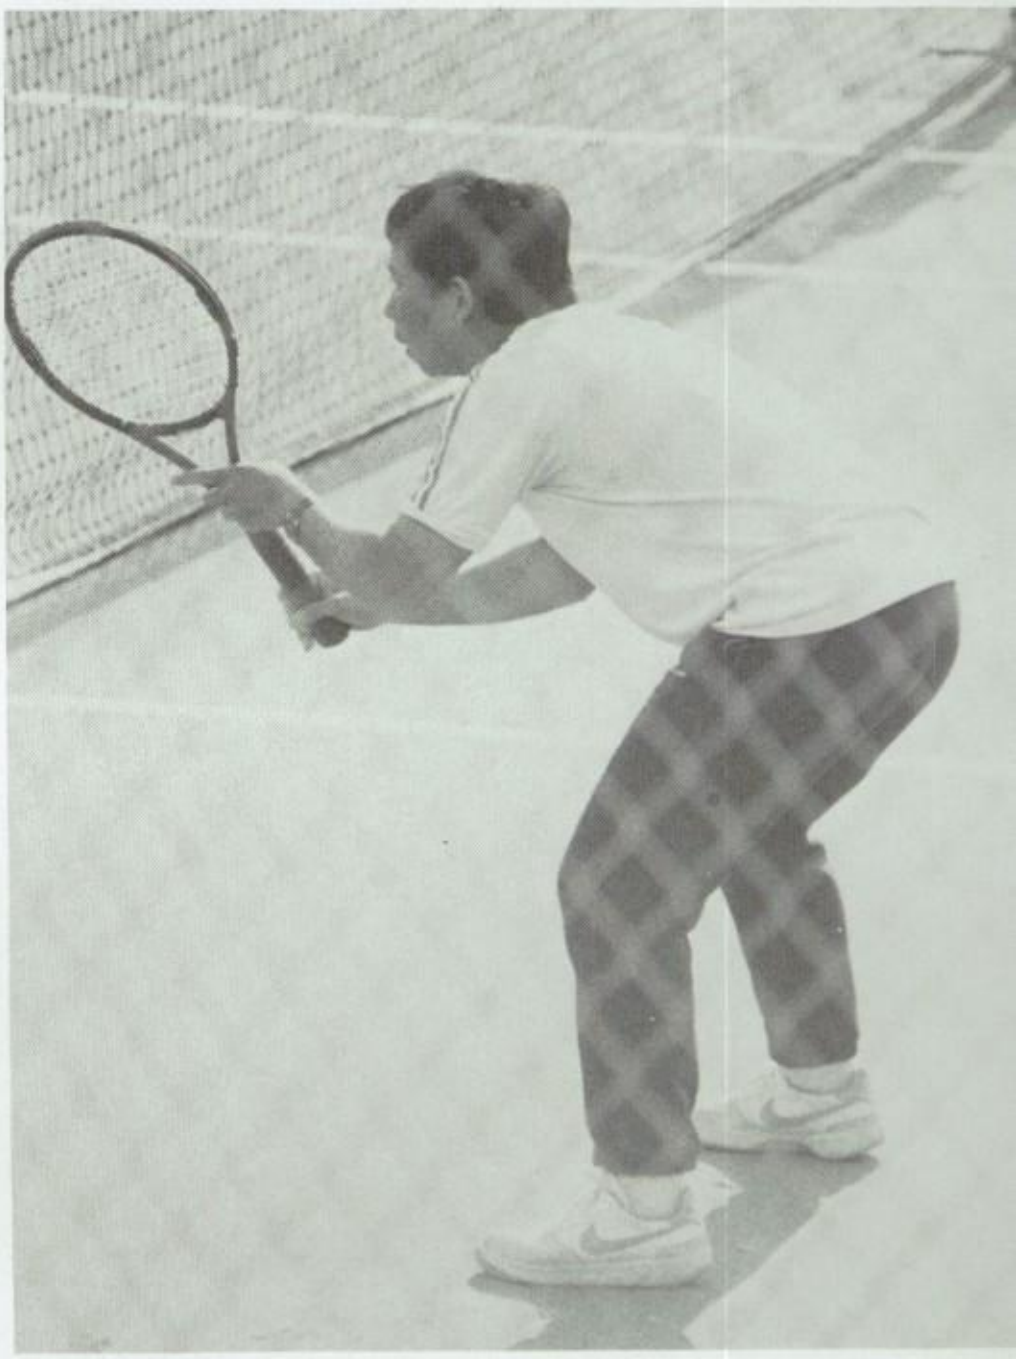
Senior Ron McCall, who came to EHS his junior year, said he decided to go out for golf "... because Jeff Bender did. He's my idol!"

Boys Tennis

Bottom row: Truong Le, Kiet Tran, Victor Rivas, Top Row: Coach Jim Dodin, Khalmphay Chanthanalay, Ray Robertson, Lonnie Romero, Thuon Huynh, Young Pak

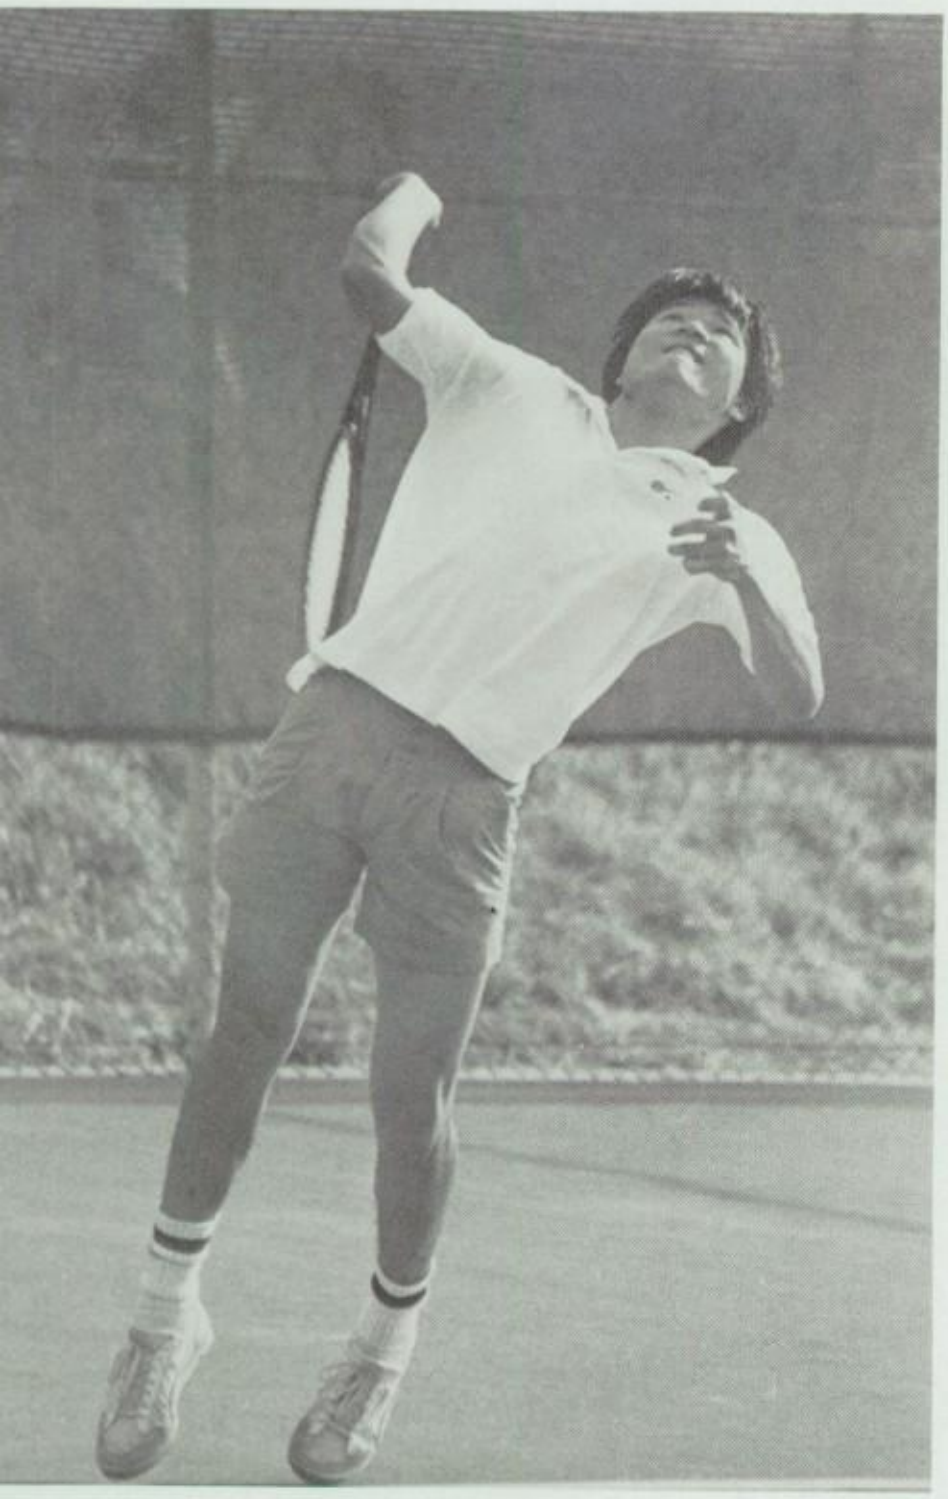


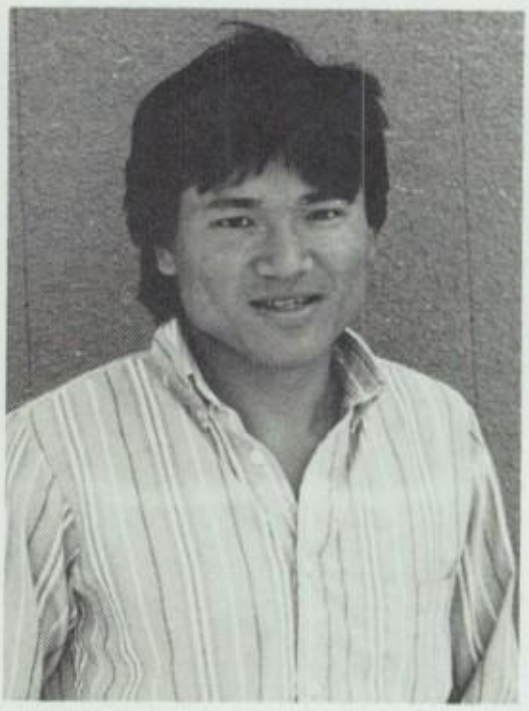
Truong Le reaches for the stars.



Kiet Tran is surprised to find a hole in his racket.

Thuong Huynh smashes the ball into his opponents face.





Standout Thuong Huynh is a junior who has been on the varsity tennis team for three years. With his good attitude and strong ability, he has proven to be a true asset to the tennis program.

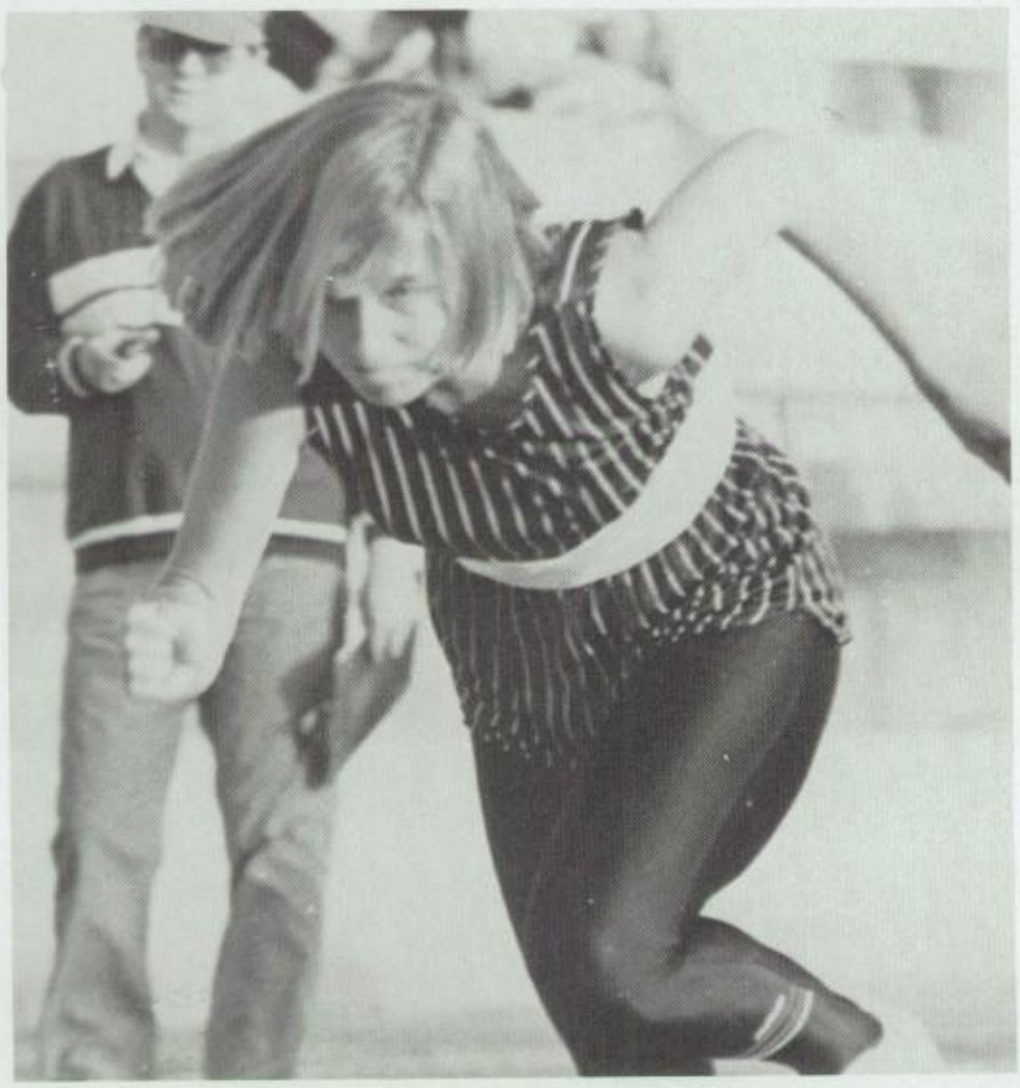
Girls Track

Track Takes Off

Girls track, once again, had a very strong and competitive season. Led by returning letterman Megan Riker, Rachel Machin, and Anita Dulay, the team had many good meets, some of them real squeakers. Girls track has always been strong, and this year was no exception. Congratulations to all the girls for their hard work.

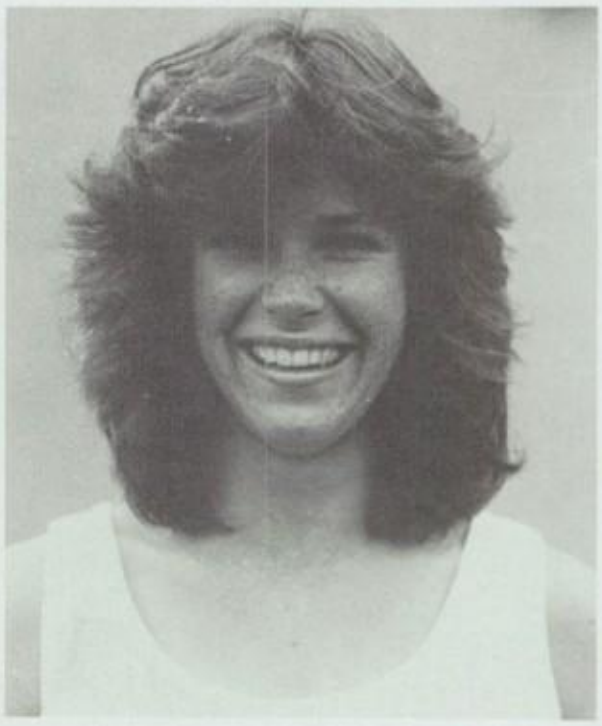
Kristi Hendricks shows good form.



Lisa Ponce runs away from the coach.

Mila Whitman goes after opponent with a stick.

Kim Armstrong gets Megan Riker off to a good start.



Michelle Weishaupt is a hurdler for the varsity girls team. A competitor on the varsity level since her sophomore year, Michelle has improved greatly in the last year and hopes to be competitive in CIF next year.

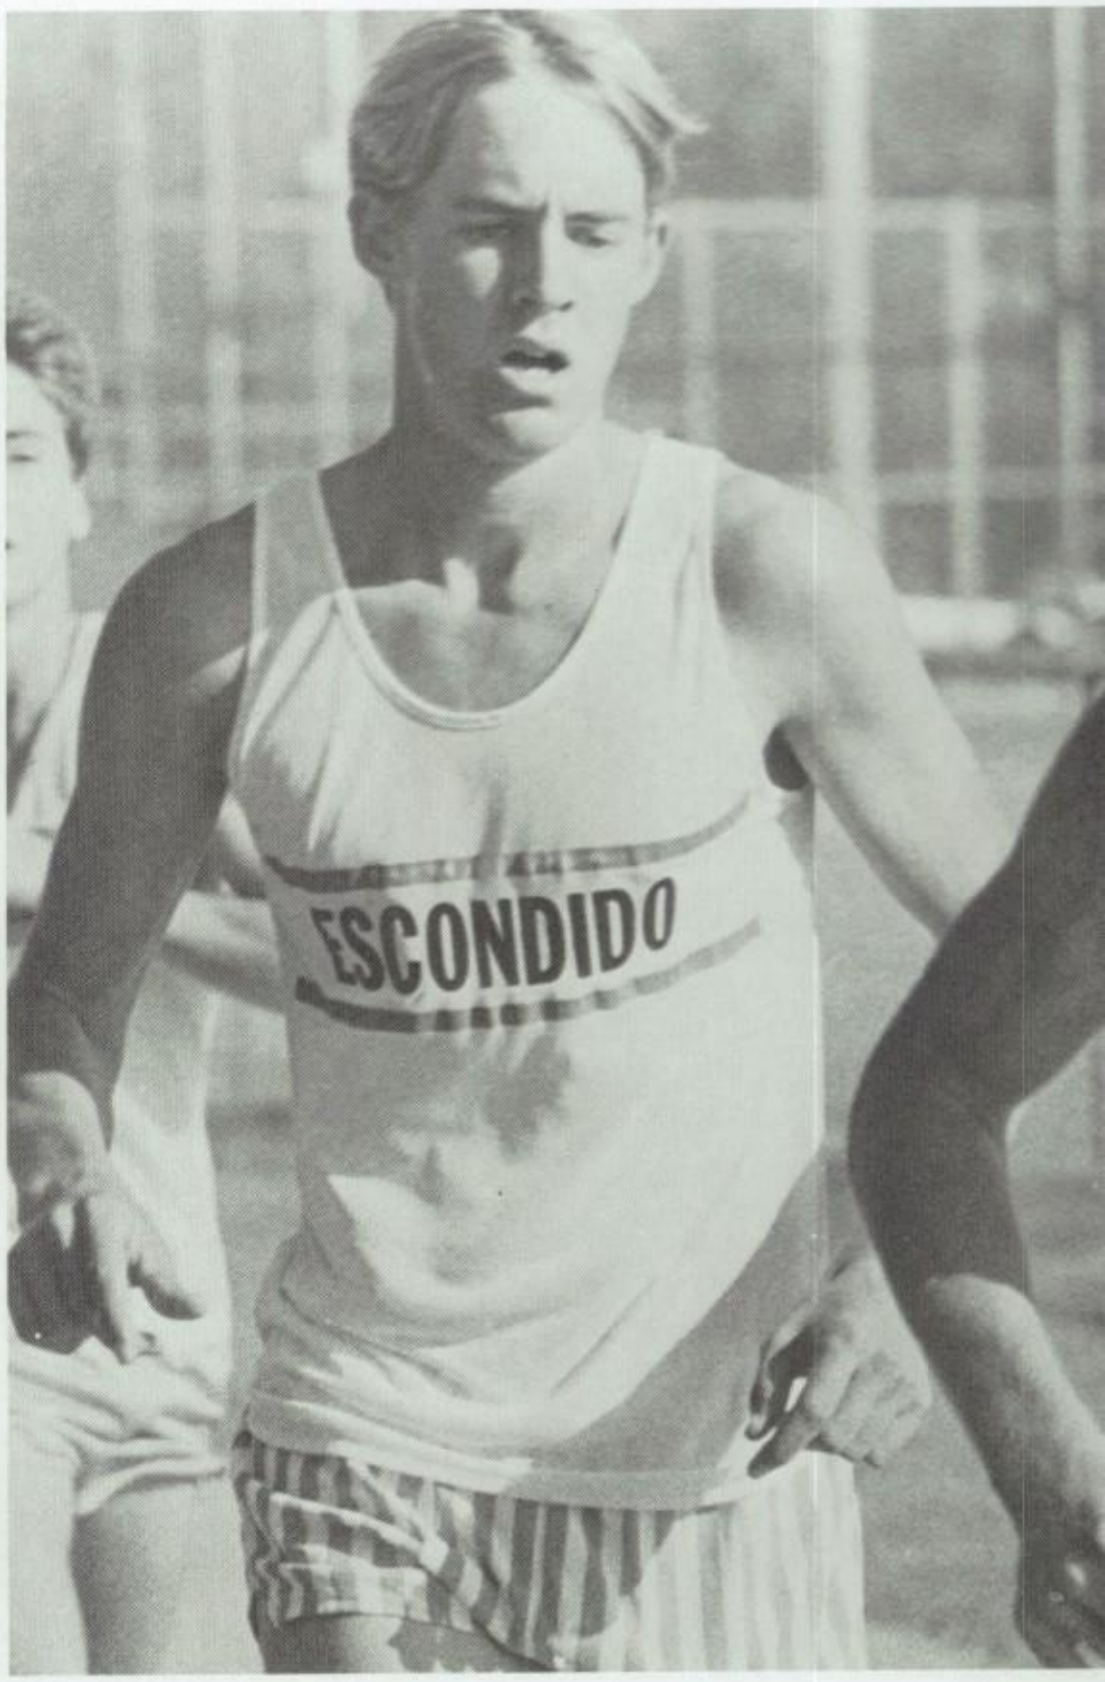
Owen Tunnell paces himself for a grueling 880 race.



Mario O'Connor leaps the hurdles in a single bound.

Mark Marquez flies through the air with the greatest of ease.

Nicole Bonaparte, Jennifer Staab, and Megan Riker concentrate on their race.

John Diaz and Jason Heideman keep their eyes on an approaching El Camino runner.

Alexia Stolz races to keep up.

Boys Track

Rick Vargas victoriously breaks the tape.

Don Bennett gets set to launch.

Scott Weedman hands off to James Kelly.

David Keizer leads the pack.

Track Runs Around The Competition

The boys track team had a very good chance to win the Avocado League title in 1986. San Pasqual was the only threat in the way, however, and EHS was barely beaten out by the larger team. Returning letterman David Keizer, Jason Heideman, and Ricky Vargas led the boys to a successful and satisfying season.

John Radcliff is a senior runner for the boy's track team. He says that "... practices are hard and the meets are pretty tense. But overall, track is a good experience. It gets you in shape."

Softball

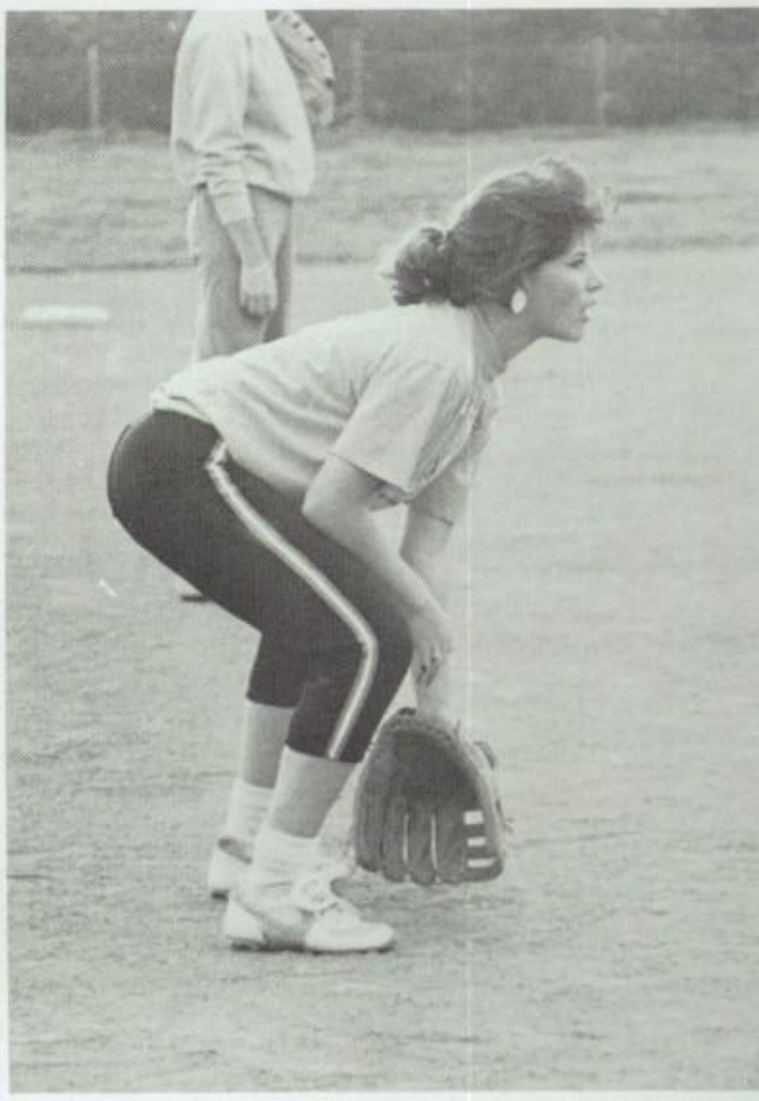
Adonica Pool get ready for the game ending out.



Noel Blais squats for the ball.

The catcher fields a foul tipped ball.

Karen Duffy is co-captain as well as pitcher for the varsity softball team. "Personally, I've improved on my pitching," said Karen. "Our team is a great bunch of people and we have a good time."

Softball Success

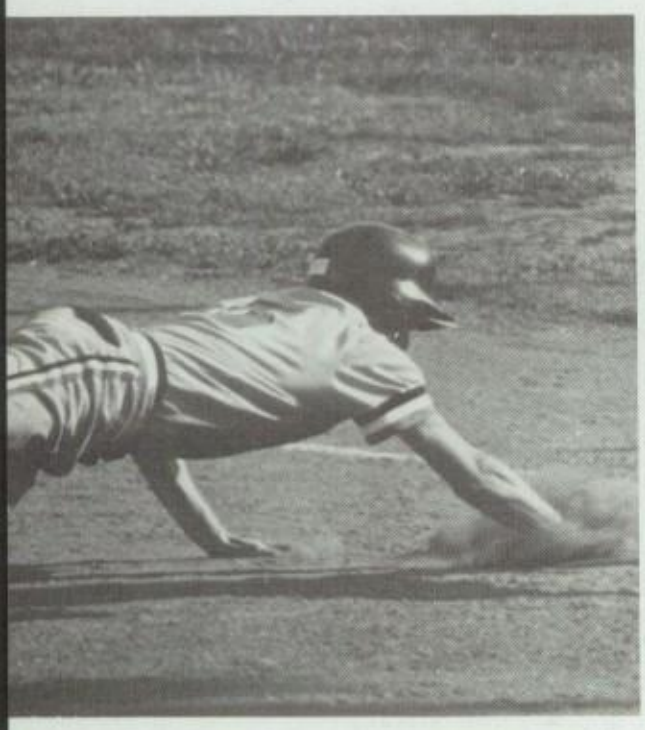
Softball is an outgoing sport that helps build sportsmanship and teamwork as well as toning up your body. It's a competitive sport that gives its players a feeling of pride when they try their best, no matter what the outcome is. This year our varsity and JV softball teams showed us they have what it takes to be a winner. With the help of their wonderful coaches, Jack Saffel and Jeanie Tharp, they improved their abilities and at the same time enjoyed it.

Baseball

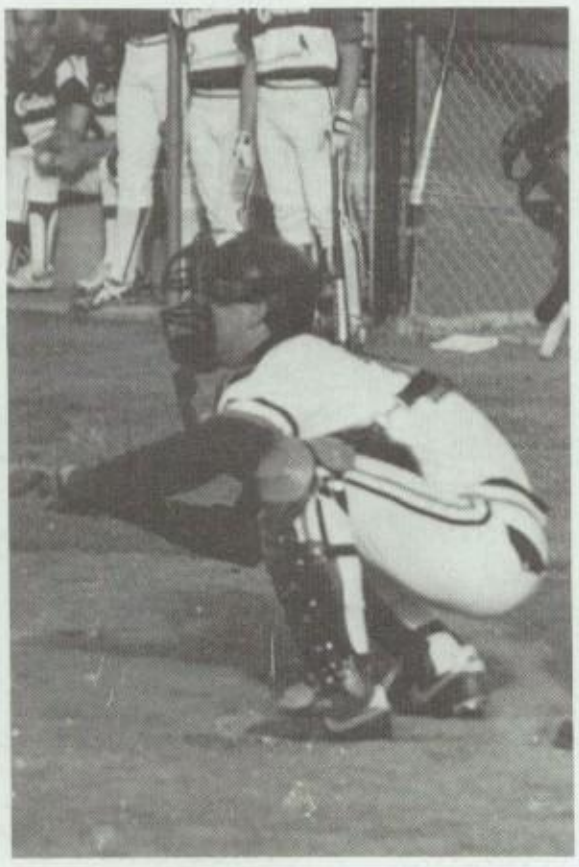
Baseball Hits It Off!

Baseball got off to a good start in 1986 by winning the "A" division in the annual Lions Tournament, and from there the varsity had a great season. Ranked as the top teams in the Avocado League, and as high as 3rd in the county, EHS boasted eight returning seniors, as well as the outstanding sophomore Andy Martin, who came up from the JV. The winning team keeps up the baseball tradition at EHS.

Safe



Using special finger signals catcher Mark Catton says "Hurry up Andy, pitch the ball..."



Nick "What a Guy" Scales rounds third base after putting one out of the park.

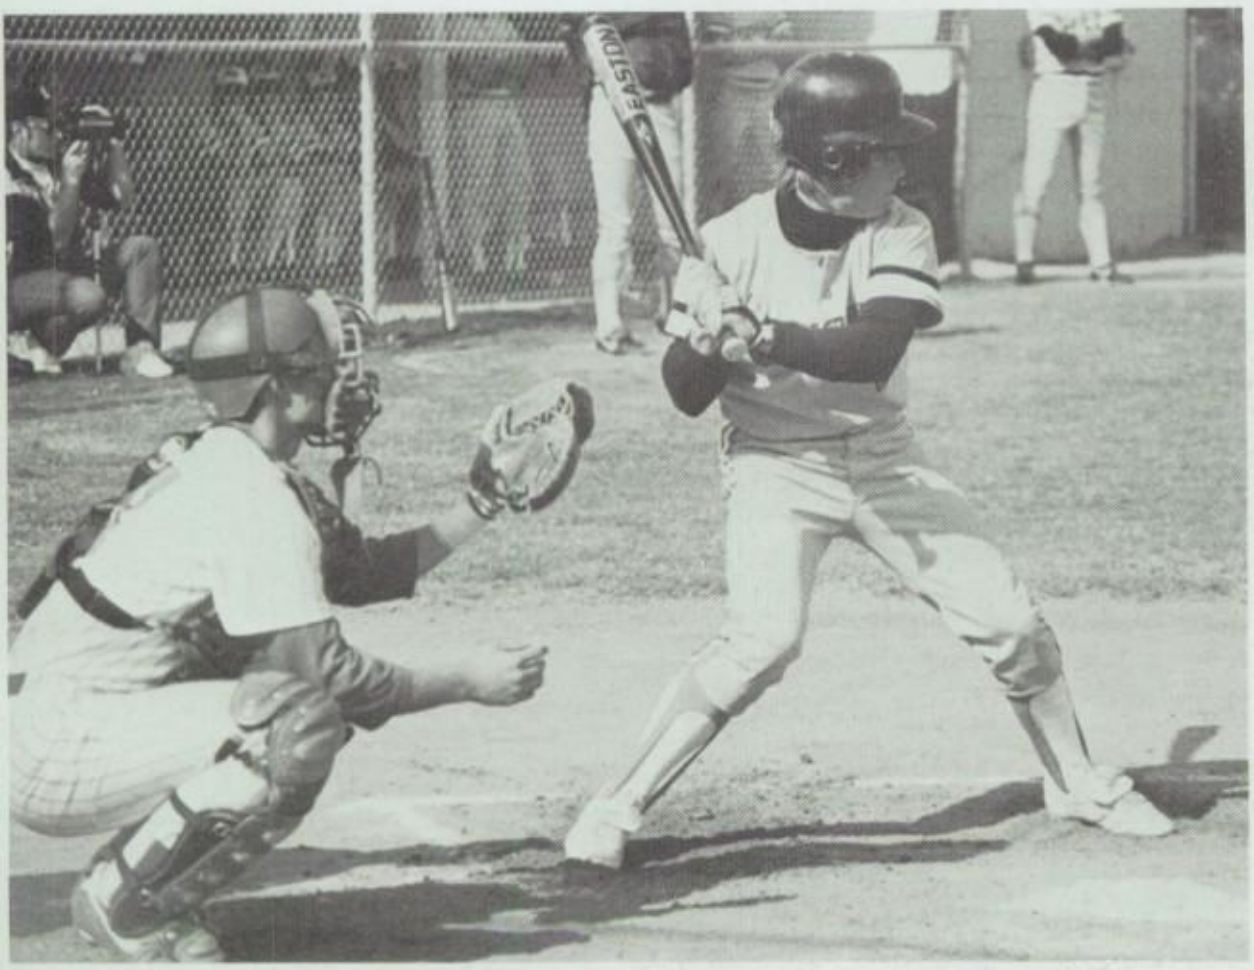
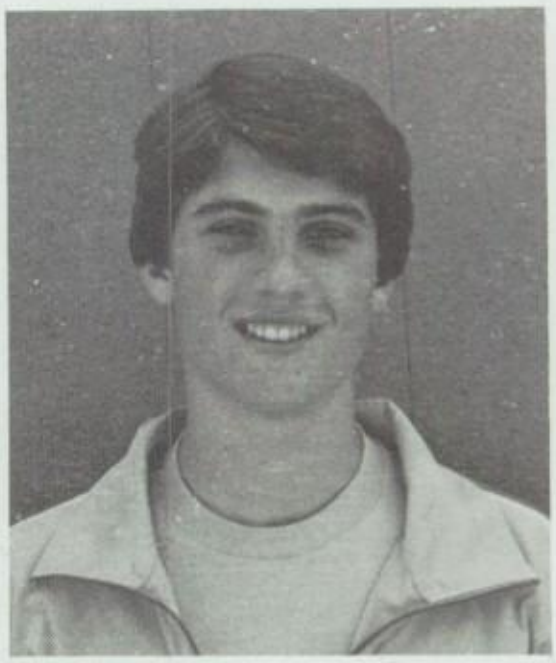
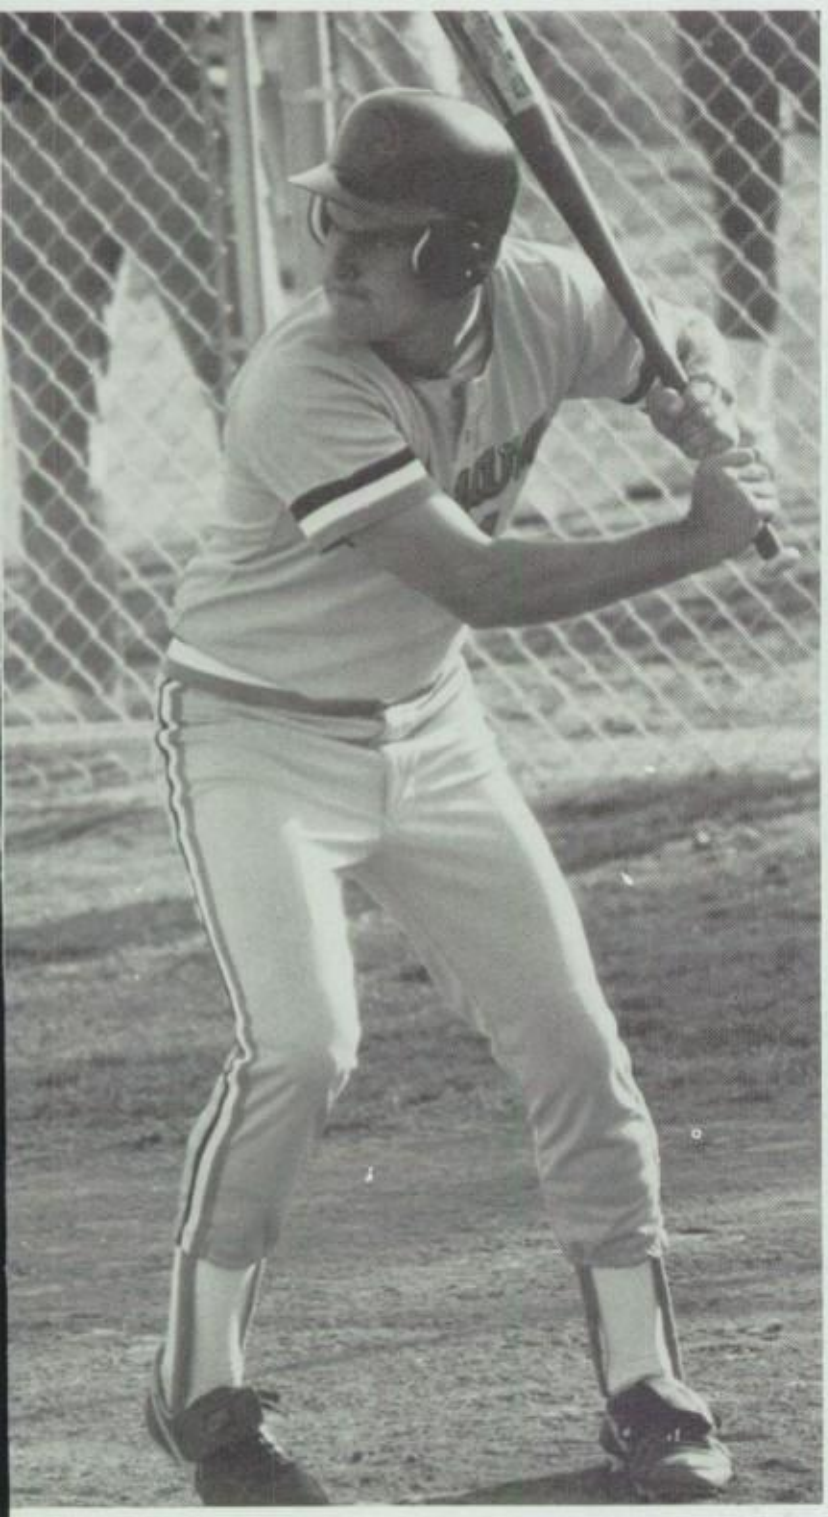
Gary Larrabee gets ready to paste one over the fence.

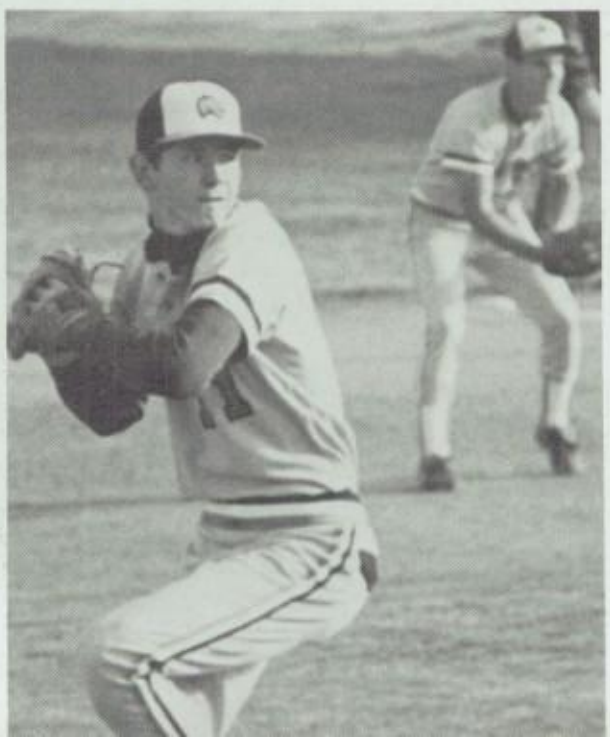




Andy Martin, already a CIF record holder for the most consecutive hits (12), has already made a name for himself. Only a sophomore, Andy has quite a future in baseball, ". . . unless I get injured."



Joe Perry awaits the ball - "I think I can, I think I can. . ."



▲ Brian "Batman" Staab gets ready to make the connection.

◀ There he goes! "Super Arnie" Spiker is about to drill one at some poor Fallbrook player.

JV's Swing A Big Bat

Mike Scales says "oof" as he throws the ball.

Gary Kinch gets ready to steal for third.

Tim McCarthy sends one flying over the fence.

Frosh Gain Experience

Don Hood alertly backs up the throw from the infielder.

Mike Garcia awaits the pitch.

Jeff Hopkins throws a quick pass to third base.

Stats

Statisticians, those people you see briskly writing and keeping socre during games, are a very important part of sports here at EHS. Want to know who caught a certain pass in a football game? Who had the most assist in a basketball game? Who had the best RBI in a baseball game? Ask a statistician. Their jobs include knowing such facts and more.

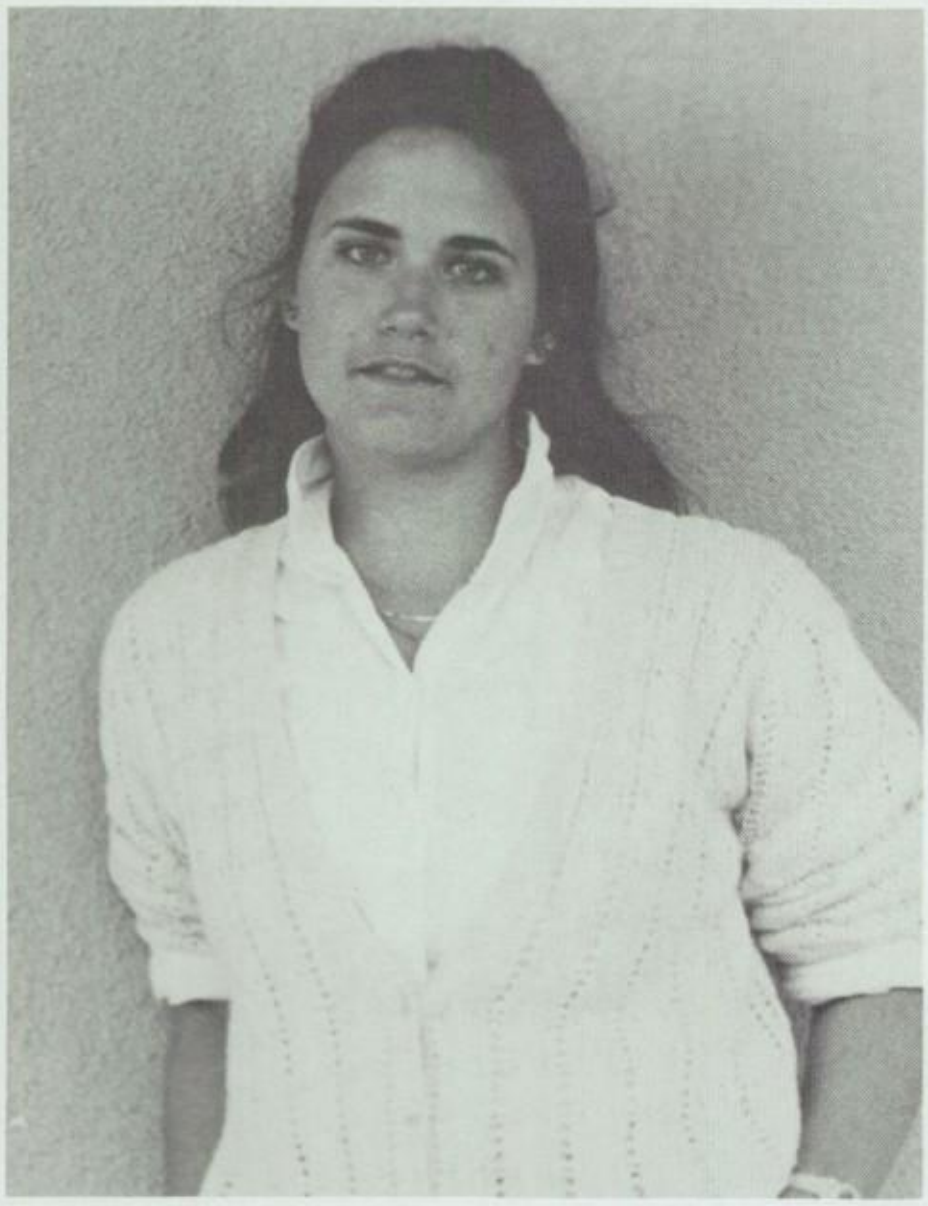
Michelle Landis, a senior, has kept baseball stats for three years.

Margie Vogt and half of Teresa Embry sing the Alma Mater after a football game.

Margie Vogt and Brain Martin keep watch on a basketball game.

Theresa Embrey has been a faithful football statistician for 4 years. "Sometimes it gets boring, but it's fun going to all the games."

Mrs. Cindy Ratliff, statistician for the swim team, helps Jason Ward find his event card.

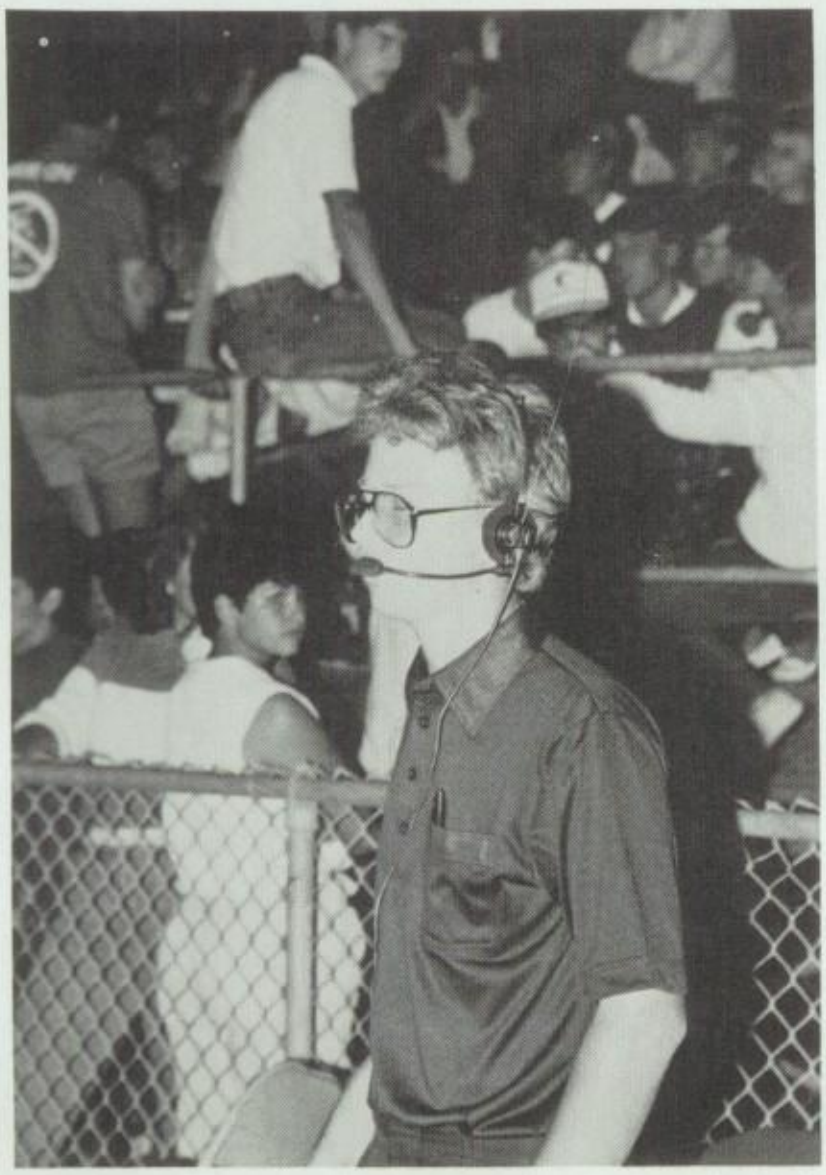


Stacey Hembree, who was a statistician for water polo, says, " ... it's been more fun looking at all the cute guys at the games than it is to take stats!"

Managers

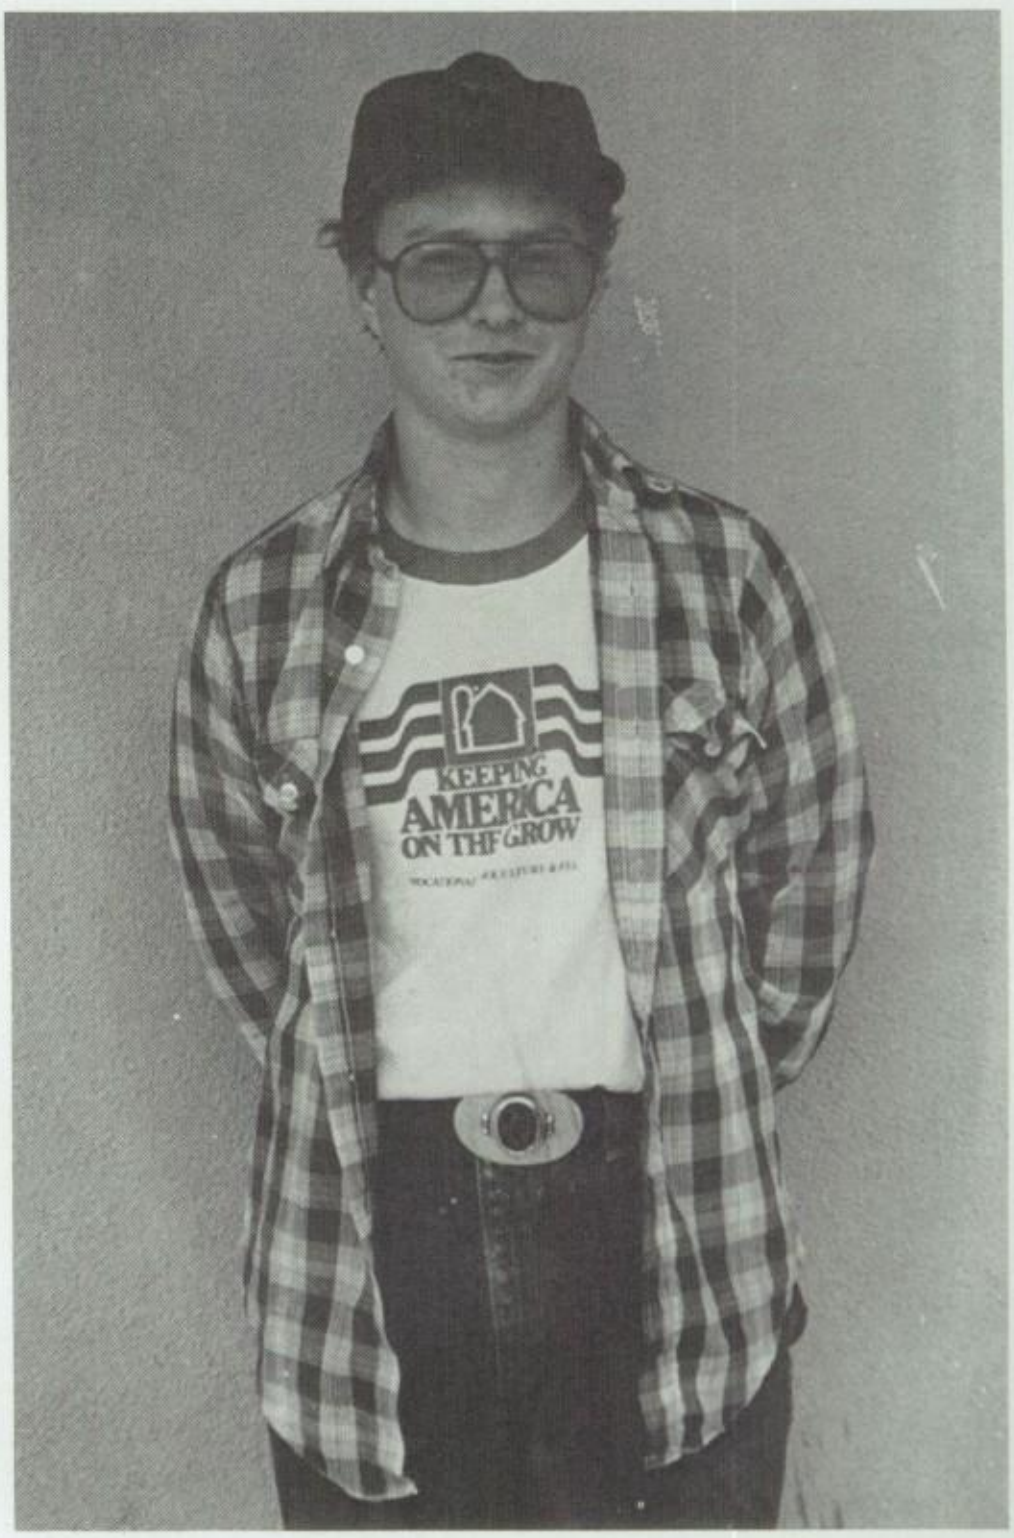
Ever wonder who those two guys were who ran around campus in a golf cart and talked into headphones? Well, they were EHS' very own football managers, Allen Breiner and Brian Snyder. Unfortunately for us, Brian moved away shortly after the first semester ended, but Allen was still around. The job of manager is not an easy one. Although Brian and Allen were teased about being "wanna-be" football players, managers don't just sit around in orange golf carts all day, contrary to popular belief. "It takes hard work," said senior Allen Breiner.

Brian Snyder revs up the golf cart for a big race.



"Beam me up Scotty . . . "

When asked what a manager must do, Allen replies, "My job included getting all the equipment ready for practice and games, setting up the "blocking bags", test audio equipment, filling water bottles, and supplying Gatorade at games." Of course, Brian Snyder helped Allen out, " . . . only when I told him what to do !", said Allen.



Allen Breiner, a hard-working individual, has been manager for three years.

Trainers

Two people specially associated with EHS are Andy Glaves and Dave Nishida. They are the owners of Escondido's Physical Therapy Group, a practice that helps patients with injuries. Andy and Dave came to football games to tape up the ankles, knees, or hands of the players. These "trainers" as they are called, also were on hand in case of a muscle pull or any other injuries. A big thank you goes out to Andy and Dave, the "resident doctors" for EHS.

Andy Glaves and Dave Nishida hold hand with one of their former patients.

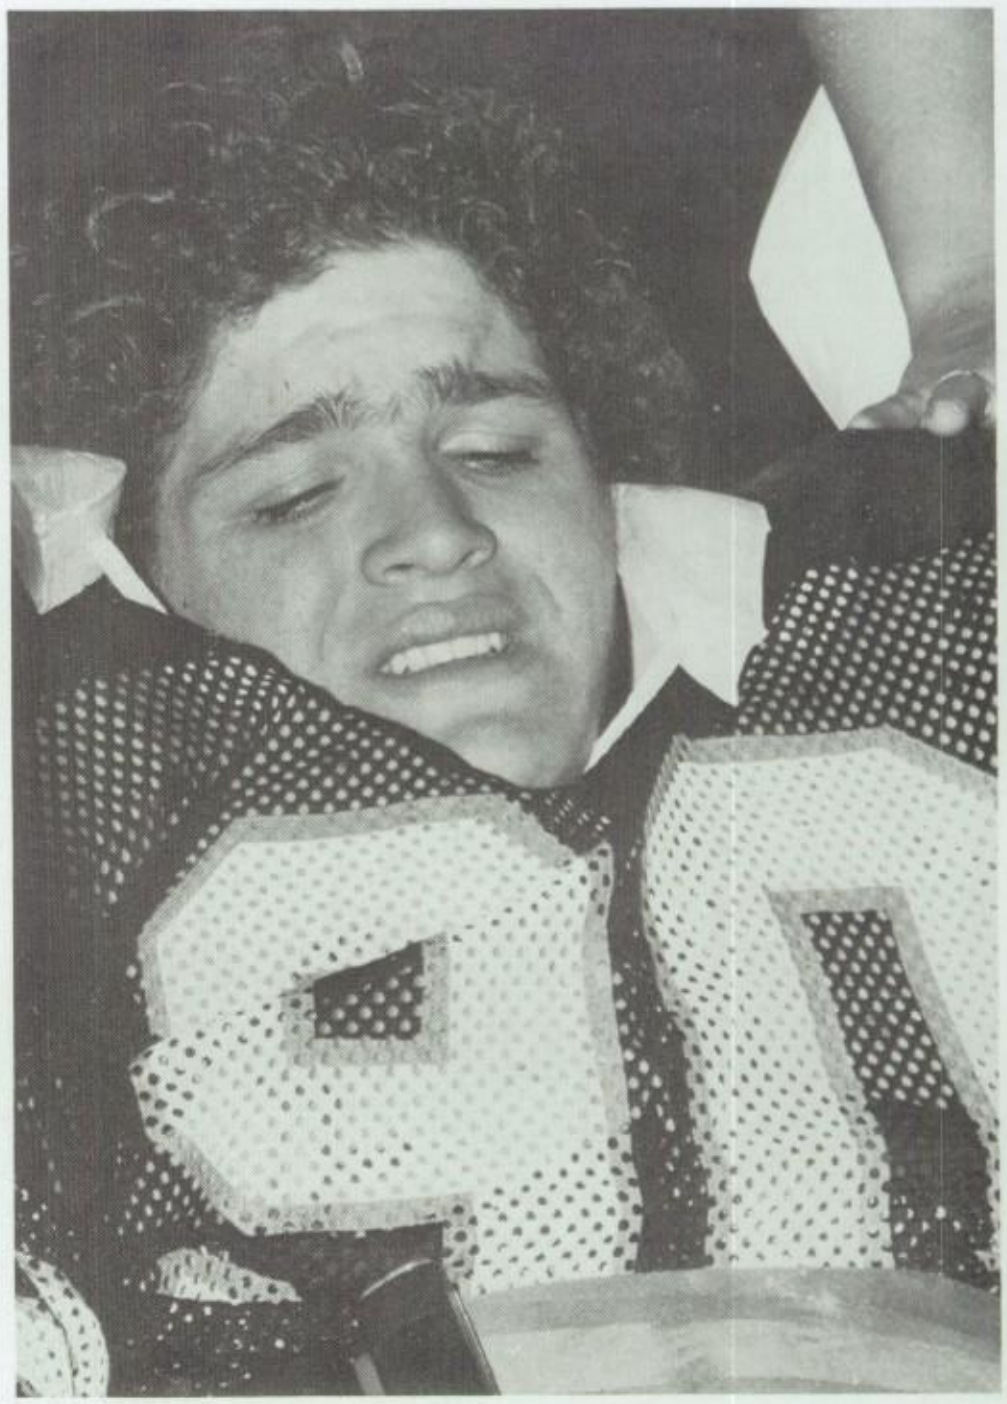
A wall in the office contains many awards received from EHS for Andy and Dave's services.

Injuries

The "Purple Cougar" award goes out to all those injured in the line of play.

Travis Goling growns in pain while being carried off the field.



Shelly Clark imitates a pancake after being flattened by an opponent's spike.

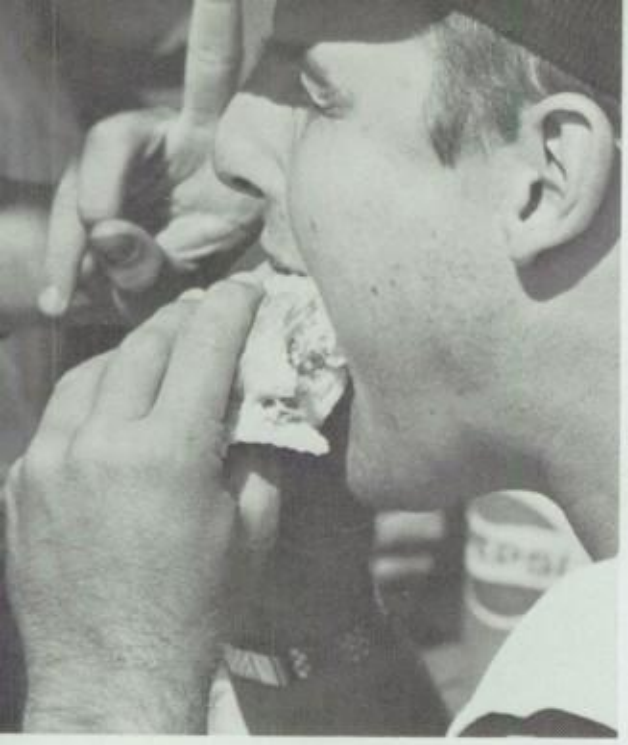
Tony Gorodeckas winces after being socked in the mouth during a water polo match.

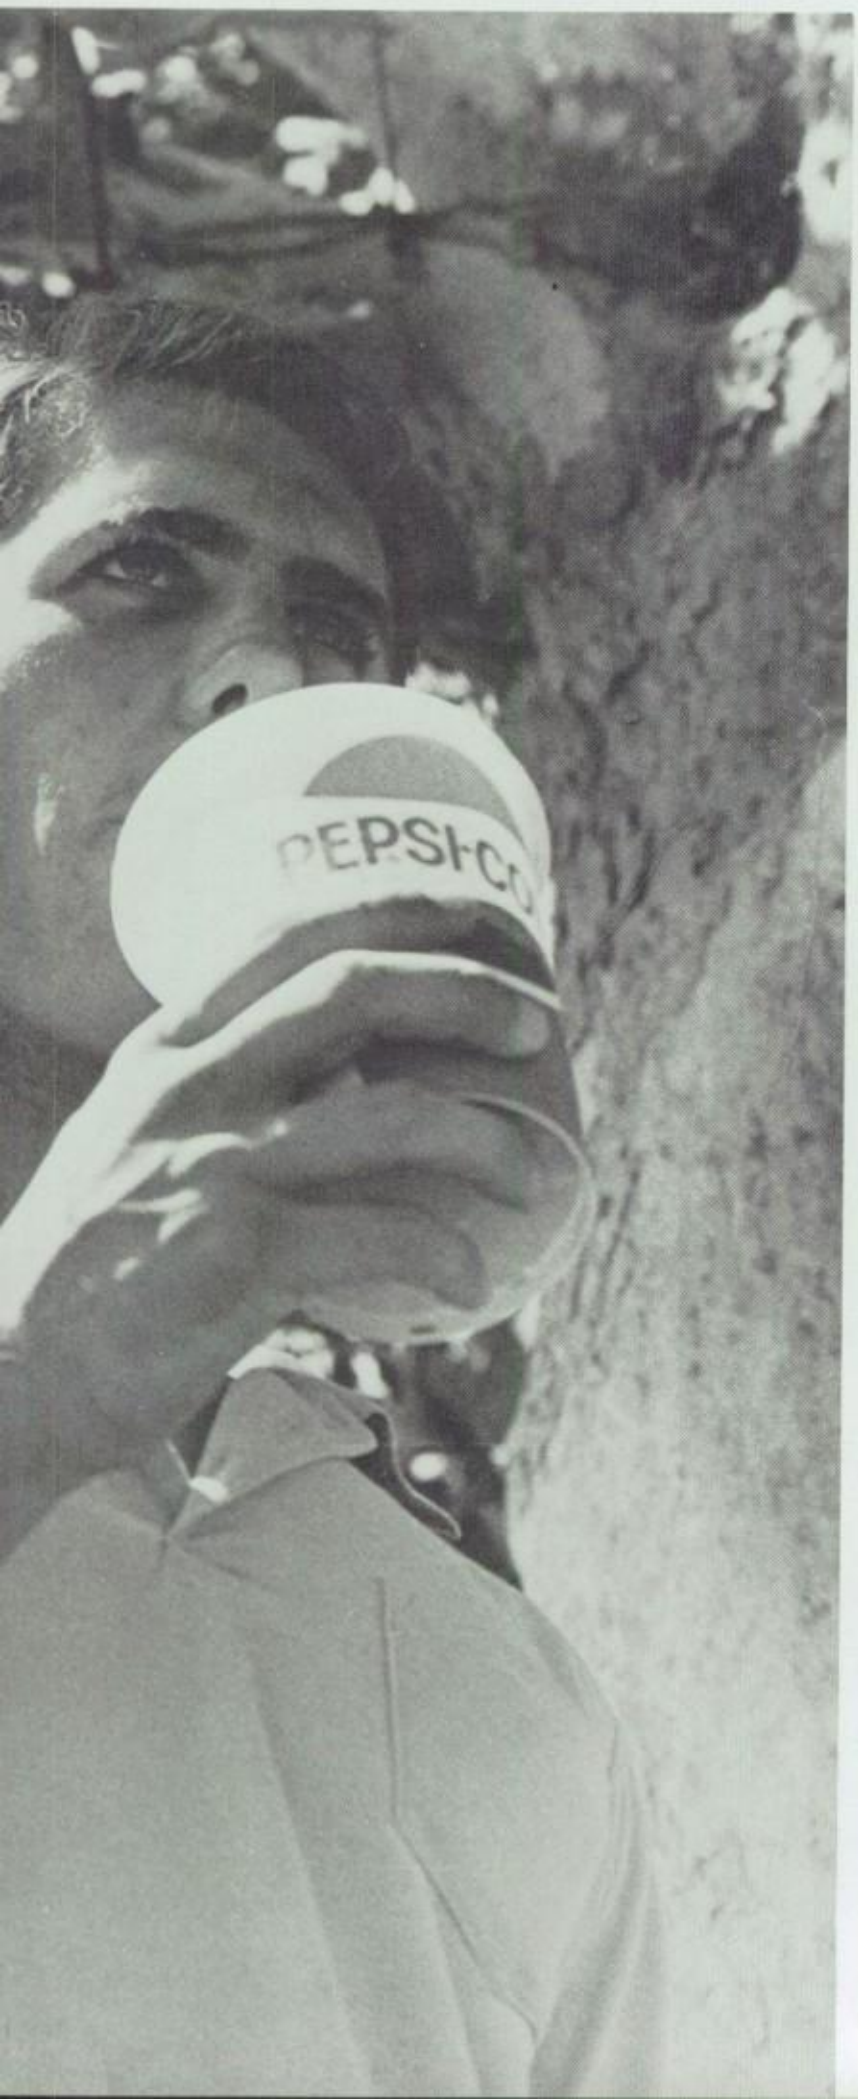
Injuries Put Dents in Season

Injuries, unfortunately, are often a part of high school athletics. These injuries range anywhere from a broken fingernail to a broken leg. Escondido High School wasn't without injuries this year, but fortunately there were no serious ones. This particular page is dedicated to those people who suffered minor painful experiences so often associated with sports.

Brian Stabb reminisces about being tagged by a wayward baseball.

ADVERTISING





Kris Feik, an inspiring young business women, works on the Ads section of the Gong. She found it difficult to get ads this year because of closed campus. She surmounted this hurdle by selling ads on her own time. Kris would call different businesses during class and, if they were interested in buying an ad, she would visit them after school. Ads are especially important to the Gong because they lower the price of the book by approximately $3.00 per book.

High school can be a real experience. This year had its' turns with 'cutesy' couples and aggravated Drama students, but it's been fun. E.H.S. night life was an unexpected attraction. And who says lunch downtown is impossible? Thanks guys, it's been an immortal adventure. Good luck to the class of '86.

Yearbook Staff

Editor-In-Chief

This year has been far from an easy experience. I have had a few good times and many bad times. Ricky, although, we had many trying moments over deadlines, I could never have done it without you. To Mr. Sadnick, I hope you aren't too disappointed with me. I tried to be a good Editor (notice I didn't say great). I won't forget the ½ gallon of Pralines N Cream. To the senior section, I'm sorry I stole so many of your color pictures. To both the Benson sisters (Laura and Catherine), thanks for all the extra help when I was in the hole. Vicki, your section looks awesome. To Mr. J., thanks for your fantastic drawings, especially the one of the Cougar cheerleader. Last, but definitely not least, Dawn, I want to thank you for all the work and support you contributed. It was definitely worth all the trouble Ricky and I went through to get you in yearbook. I wish next year's yearbook staff the very best because it's not going to be easy to get a better yearbook than this one.

Photo Editor is a big job that requires a lot of hard work and dedication (or so I was told). Meeting the deadlines was fun, fun, fun; especially the hours spent after school working on the yearbook. In this time I feel that I gained a closer friendship with my co-workers-Dawn, Mary, and Robyn. Thanks for all the extra trouble you pushed my way.

This year was a year of surprises. We actually made our deadlines! Missy, your off-the-wall-ness is appreciated. John, you're cute when your angry. We didn't need those negatives anyway. Lynn, you take great pictures. Uncle Gary, was it worth it? To the yearbook class-thanks for the memories. Good luck in the future seniors. Also, good luck to next years senior section! It was interesting!

I have learned many things from being a student life editor. It has been a fun two years being on the yearbook staff. I would like to thank Laura Benson for staying after school with me to meet our deadlines. A special thanks to Denise Lowrie for taking endless pictures and also Laura Avila for writing the copy.

Sports Section

The year started out slowly, but sports finally got it together- second semester! I would like to thank my staff: Shaun "Bear" Murphy, who gave me lots of good ideas (too bad they didn't have anything to do with yearbook); Denny, "the Bear", Morgan, who made more funny noises than pictures; Oscar "Taco Bell" Valdez and Adrian "I-have-to-go-to-work" Zarty, who took pictures only when forced; and Rondi "what-do-you-want-me-to-do" Creech, who was just kind of there. Lastly, I would like to thank Mr. Chocolate-Donut-on-a-Saturday-Morning Sadnick, who will never, ever trust the words "It's done!"

Semi-sincerely,
Megan "The Boss" Yancey

Underclass Section

Being the underclass editor requires a lot of patience because you're always working with pictures of unknown younger students. A big thanks goes to Steph Asbury for her hard work and the many long hours she put in. Brad and Michelle, all your help was deeply appreciated. To the yearbook class - you're great!

Academics Section

I really had a lot of fun this year in academics/faculty. Staying after school to meet our deadline was even more fun (wasn't it Spencer?). Thanks to Michelle Landis and Spencer Faulkenberg, we got it done. Oh yeah- thanks Denny, Oscar, and Adrian- You did a good job. Good luck to next year's staff.

Ads Section

Being an editor on the yearbook staff was fun, at times. I would like to give a special thanks to Kris Feik who was always ready to work. Meeting our ads deadline was extremely difficult because of closed campus, but I finally got it done. I couldn't have made it without the help of Kim Revilla, Mary Aranda, Brad Drinkward, Steph Asbury, and Dawn Weisser. Good luck to next year's ad editor.

Party Time 1996

Come back to see your old friends

Hey gang, we know that after four years of hilarious homework, titillating tests, and all-nighters which defy description, you just can't wait to come back to Escondido, right?

Well, in just ten years you'll get your chance. For those of you who had trouble in math, that't 1996, so if it's 1998 you've already missed it. Just detach or xerox the form below and return it to Escondido High School, 1535 N. Broadway, Escondido, Ca. 92026 between November 1995 and March 1996. Since you graduated from a public school, you might want to get someone to help you fill it out.

Anyone who doesn't fill out the form below will be reported to the F.B.I. Death is the only legitimate excuse for not attending, and you must have a signed doctor's note certifying your demise sent to Escondido at least three years in advance.
